Items Of Interest For Caltech Vets

The California Educational Act

You may be eligible for educational benefits under the California Educational Act which is designed to give assistance to veterans over and above their rights under Public Law 36 or 36.

Qualifications for eligibility

You are eligible if you were a bona fide resident of California when you entered the military service of the United States, and if you served 90 days of active duty, received an honorable discharge or a release from active duty under honorable conditions. Time spent in college training programs does not count as active duty.

If you were a minor at the time of entering service, your parent or guardian must have established residence here and you must have been living here at the time; however, if you were of age, you must have established residence yourself. A minimum period of established residence has not been specified, but it should be able to prove that you have been actually a resident and not merely a "projected resident."

Cash Benefits Available

The amount expended on the account of one veteran under the provisions of this law shall be limited to $1,000. The maximum monthly allowance that can be paid is $80. The monthly allowance for maintenance, tuition, or deanship expenditures is $200. There is no limit on the amount of outside work that can be done as long as grades are not suffering as a result.

A veteran cannot use both federal and state aid at the same time; however, he may use the state aid either before or after the federal aid. It is possible that a veteran pursuing his education under the G. I. Bill will continue to do so for his full period of residence, coming over to the state aid. Additional benefits would certainly be appropriated in the future to make these benefits even greater when the veteran uses them.

Halloween Party For All Students’ Wives
Throop Club Lounge; 8 p.m. Wed., October 30
Not to be outdone in social activity, the Throop Club wives auxiliary has all wives of Caltech students to a very informal Halloween party on Wednesday, October 30, at 8:00 p.m. The guests, wearing their overhead clothes, and masks if possible, will make grand decorations and costume parties. All members are welcome to any meeting of the club organized later in the spring, but the party offers a special opportunity for prospective members to become acquainted with the present members of the club. However, attendance at the party obligates no one to join the club.

Chamberlain Improvements
Planned
Throop Club members will be surprised and pleased to learn that appropriations have been approved for improvements in the club lounge. Some new furniture will be purchased, and the old furniture is to be renovated. New lighting may even be installed. New draperies for the windows have already been ordered, and the wives auxiliary has promised to install them when they arrive. The women especially will be delighted to learn that a kitchenette is being fixed up in the club office room, a long-felt need. Members will be surprised and pleased to learn that Bob Lavy has lost his faith in economics: a recent investment has borne no interest. Alas, alcohol makes some members of the club office room, a nearly hour last Friday night. "Wald's danceable but only average," declared Miss Jean. The results do not permit a listing by name of the many other new members of the club. However, the general public, there may be a few regular noontime concert-goers. The first of these is scheduled for Monday, October 26, from 12:15 to 12:45. Monday night concerts will be reserved exclusively for the presentation of jazz music.

Because of dense crowds, the band is playing a good place to dance in, but with the current appearance of Jerry Wald's danceable but only average orchestra the moods may be small. Apparently, this has been surprising, and even during the successful les Brown and Tex Beneke engagements crowded the dance floor during intermission.
