Introduction

Caltech undergraduate life may undergo a major upheaval after the 1986-1987 school year. Though the food service and "ratio" will remain the same, other aspects of undergraduate life will change significantly. Renovation of the South Hovses will improve the quality of life for hundreds of undergraduates. New, water resistant courtyards in Ricketts and Blacker will complete the alterations to these houses which were begun last year. The removal of grafitti in Dabney and the conversion of Fleming into a parking lot will not be complete, but the conversion of the South Hovse basement into a student activities center with a new Coffeehouse, new offices for student publications and clubs, study halls, a game room, and a TV room will be, and will forever change the ways undergraduates flick.

A new MOSH and a new President will head the bureaucracy that oversees all aspects of student life. Shorter terms and longer vacations will reduce the academic pressure on undergraduates, and could lower the number of super-seniors and flame-outs.

Not only does this edition of the Big T balance the coverage of these changes in Caltech undergraduate life with things that have remained the same, such as Frosh Camp and Ditch Day, but also the structure of the Big T has undergone a change. A faculty section is present for the second year in a row after a five-year absence.

Photos of about five hundred members of the faculty are interspersed with photos that reflect the influence these faculty members have on undergraduate academic life, including undergraduate labs, classes, and research. A student index is provided for the first time, which, unlike the advertiser indices of past years, is designed to help you find photos of you and your friends long after you've left Caltech.

The editorship and staff of this Big T underwent an abrupt change; we took over from the previous editor in late July, 1987. It was difficult to produce a yearbook almost from scratch in five weeks, and we would like to thank the many people who helped us out. In addition to the people listed in the credits below, we would like to thank Susan Berkley, Trisha Miller, and Bob Oliver from the MOSH's Office; Richard Gomez and Bob Paz from Graphic Arts; Carolyn Merkel from the SURF Office: Assistant Dean Jeanne Noda; and Barbara Wirick from Public Relations, all of whom provided support and helped us acquire photos and other items we needed to create the yearbook in such a short timespan. We would also like to thank Gavin Claypool, Business Manager of the California Tech, for his advice; seniors, clubs, and houses for putting up with the late requests for materials; and the student body at large for accepting the late distribu-. tion of the yearbook. We hope you enjoy the yearbook.

Bye-bye Murph

[CMRO]—In his relatively short term as President of Caltech (1978-1987), Marvin Goldberger contributed much, seeing the school through many changes. Now, as he leaves, Caltech faces yet another change: a new President.

"Dr. Everhart comes to Caltech with an outstanding record of scientific and engineering research and teaching as well as academic administration," said Ruben Mettler, Chairman of Caltech's Board of Trustees. "His leadership and dedication to excellence will serve Caltech well as it responds to new and exciting research and teaching opportunities."

Everhart will assume his duties as Caltech's president on September 8, 1987. He is married to the former Doris Arlene Wentz and has four children.

"It is a great honor to have been chosen as Caltech's new president," said Everhart. "Caltech is recognized as one of the world's finest teaching and research institutions and I look forward to my new job with great anticipation. I will try hard to live up to the sterling example set by my predecessors."

"Dr. Everhart was selected as Caltech's president after an extensive search that began when Marvin L. Goldberger, the current president, announced that he would retire no later than June, 1988. "There were two search committees," explained Dr. Mettler, "one composed of members of the faculty and one composed of members of the Board of Trustees. Both committees worked long and hard on this challenging and sensitive task and I commend the member for their diligent efforts."

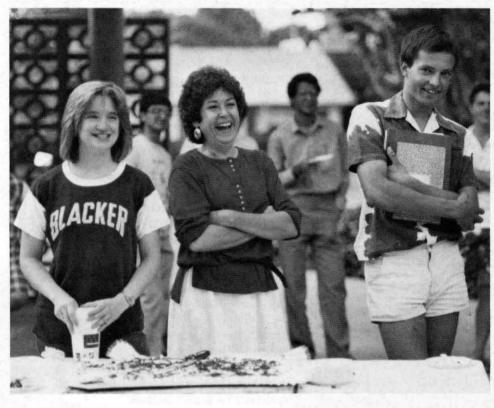

"I would also like to acknowledge the debt of gratitude the entire Caltech community owes to Dr. Goldberger. His outstanding leadership abilities took the Institute through some of the most important years in its history." Dr. Goldberger will be leaving Caltech to serve as Director of the Institute for Advanced Studies in Princeton, New Jersey.

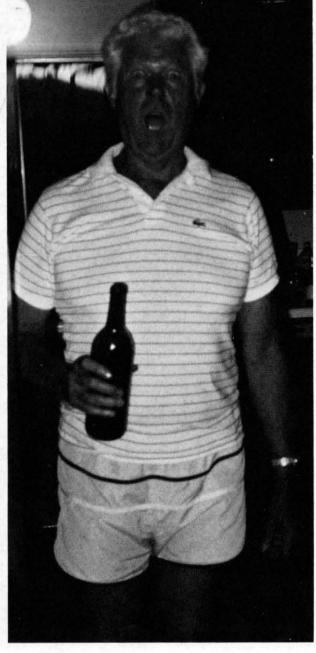

"Caltech is a very special place and it deserves the very best," said Goldberger. "I have known Tom Everhart for several years as a scientist and as an administrator. He is unusually well qualified to lead Caltech."

The MOSHs (new and old) provide an avenue of support and redress for grievances for students allowing better communication with the faculty and administration. To ensure that some frosh would appreciate the luxury of Camp Fox and B.C. food, the Y sent forty frosh, upperclassmen, and alumni on a week long hike through the High Sierras prior to Frosh Camp. Though not all four groups successfully completed their scheduled trails, upperclassmen in the beginning group, pictured here around a campfire, successfully converted half the frosh in their group into dregs.

Another year begins at Caltech, and 200 frosh plus a few brave upperclassmen ventured into the comfort and luxury of Camp Fox on Catalina Island. The frosh were enlightened as to the finer aspects of life at Caltech, and the significance of the male to female ratio finally hit home.

Interhouse 1986 was sadly marred by unusual incidents of violence. A fight broke out in the courtyard of Lloyd, and Big T photographer Bob Maher was stabbed. These incidents resulted in harsher rules for parties at Tech. Most people, however, enjoyed themselves immensely, as these pictures prove tures prove.

As usual, Blacker managed to have the messiest Interhouse of all houses. Welcome to ancient Egypt, complete with desert Nile, pyramid Sphinx (although some would call it a rodent), and intrigues! Returning Moles this year found a new building in place of their beloved Blacker House. It was a building without history, with sterile walls in monkey-puke green pastel, horse-dropping beige pastel, and vacuum-grease blue pastel. Also, the Honor System no longer applied to questions concerning housing: we were automatically assumed guilty until proven innocent, and promptly charged for everything (including things such as putting hyperspace entrance covers back in place!)

SOME houses gave up and sold themselves to this new system. Not Blacker! You won't push Moles around any way you want—we are going to keep our housing freedom! We want our house to be LIVED IN, not a museum for money-donating alumni.

Another question we can't help asking ourselves is, "Where is our tapestry????!?!?!!?"

Well, another year has finally ended. (Thank God!) On looking back, it's been a fairly mixed-up year. The likes and dislikes of Dabney House have become defined in a startlingly new way. (Well, maybe not so startling, but we couldn't come up with a good adjective.) Some of Dabney's favorite things are: cats, bobcats, cherry-pickers, Disneyland, Elaine, hackysacks, hot tubs, jai alai (Dabney style), libraries, VCRs, bicycles, Mandelbrot, Macintoshes, unicycles, Star Trek, the House decorated in Early Computer Tape, Mojo Nixon and Skid Roper, Big John and Big Jack, (a drunk) Oscar, Diet Apple Slice, beaches, going on leave, burlap, Ath Formals with or without Kenny and Rahul, miracles, Daihatsus, Almond Roca, Olivia D'Abo, 90+ units per term, 9- units per term, burning blue books, "weenies," pies (especially when paid for by the MOSH), Mission Impossible, getting UASHed, King of the Couches (E. Kendall B.), black drapes and carpets, juggling, falling couches, House Secretaries/BOC Reps on leave (watch out Adam), Fleming Parking Lot, microwaves, peach bows aka Eun the airhead, seniors graduating (on time or otherwise), innings from hell, winning games (thanks Pat), snakes, and Dave Leahy in drag. Some least favorite things are: John Hart in drag, weenies who don't show up for pictures, sophomores, freshmen, UASH, having to go on leave, blue books before they're burned, sunburns, infinite elections for new secretaries, having to be on board, carrots, Syndicate and Clea, rotation, Rus' underwear, Fishbone, southern bitches from hell, and RENOVATION!!!!!!!!! And that's the way it was. See ya.

Super Flems: Four long years or more
1 Jonathan Brown
2 Mark Eggleston and Dave Ely
3 Mark Ross

Ha! ha! ha! ha! ha! ha! ha! ha! ... WELCOME!!!

It was late in September, and the time was as ripe as a pair of the Buddies' underwear for the year to get underway. After rotation (and a week of hearing "Room Athletic Manager" every night) was over, Fleming House took on the challenge of shaping up its corps of freshmen. While a few of the frosh were "really stoked to catch some bitchin' times," most (ath. weenies not withstanding) were simply content with "logging on."

At the year's first formal meal, the poet laureate enlightened the house by describing, in detail, some new uses for The Cheese Grater.

The Big Red Machine picked up right where it left off (Animal Meal '86) with a perfect Interhouse softball season, and Burleigh's social team covered its butt (which is always a good thing to do when visiting the other houses on campus) with a couple of happenin' 328 parties.

Eventually, work began on Eggleston's dream Interhouse: Castle Fansomestein. It was about this time that Edgington and Thor picked themselves up some HOT, new couches.

When Interhouse came this year, Castle Fansomestein was ready, complete with a moat, working drawbridge, and (of course) a medieval casino. Those slimy, anal Mudders starred with Dr. Fansomestein (Hayes) and Superflem (JJ) in an anal house play.

The One That Flew Away

"Do you suppose it vibrates?"

"[pointing to cannon off-stage] Hey what's that over there? It's so big...and long...and thick and stiff...and masculine. I'd like to grab it and stroke it and...

and "Any orifice! Any orifice!"

It was however, John "Page Boy" Eras (aka The Grim Reamer), who dropped out of relative modesty and stole the second show with a massive display of his manhood.

Thanks to Page, there was plenty of the wrong element at Interhouse, and Clark ended up getting a tooth knocked out while Burleigh's car had its back window smashed in (maybe the boys will show a little better judgment next year in who they invite...).

There was no waiting for Interhouse clean-up as Paramount's set crew arrived Monday: Fleming House was to be used in the filming of "Beverly Hills Cop II." For a few days of inconvenience, Fleming received some monetary compensation from Paramount.

The first term closed out with the Big Red Machine winning Interhouse swimming and diving in front of a gigantic "Fleming Appreciation Day" crowd!

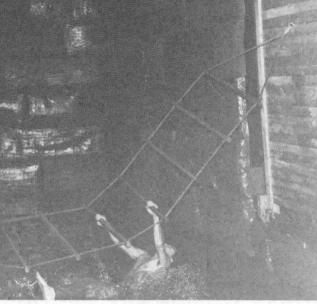

Ultimate became an Interhouse sport, and to promote the nighttime games, and to familiarize the rest of the house with the team members, the ultimate players received such descriptive nicknames as:

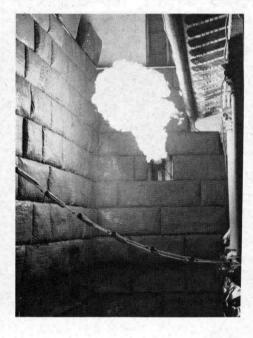

Keith "I Wear it as a Belt" Hanson Sean "King Cobra" Trabosh Mark "I tie it around my Ankle" Ross

John "The Human Tripod" Josephson
—but Eras still wasn't impressed.

Meanwhile, Catanzaro, Phillips, and Busacker were hard at work on the unfamous Super Bowl Blimp. Although it took not too much time (only three solid weeks) and they were caught up with their work soon after the Super Bowl (that is, a couple of weeks into the third term), they were a little disappointed that it didn't quite work (they all shit bricks when it took off and headed out-of-control toward the Pacific).

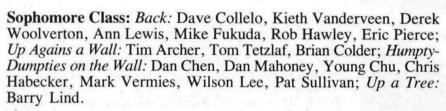

Fleming volleyball was dominant in posting an unbeaten Interhouse season, while classic social events such as Wine and Candlelight, and Road Rallye (this year's rules including the Damage, or "no cheesy moustache" clause) mixed with a party at the "Batcave" or Salvatori Room—didn't someone on the social team promise sorority girls would be at several parties?

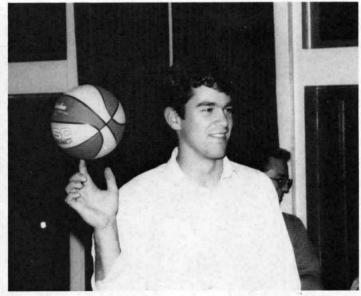

Mafia style pressure by Fleming on the BOC resulted in the overturning of the BOC's ruling and allowed Edgington (remember those stolen couches?) to stick around at Caltech.

Second term also marked the official cataloging of the Rob "Googly" Williamson walk (followed closely by the song "Walk like a Williamson") and the observance of his GOOGLY eyes (in conjunction with the serving of ice cream novelties at dinner).

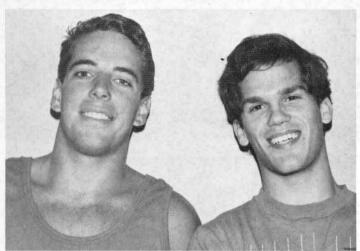

There was also much heated debate about how to spend the Paramount money. There was a mixture of bad and lame ideas, with a house Tahoe trip, and splitting up the money among the house members being the two front runners. The most humourous moment of the debate came when Joel announced his position on the matter: "Just give me my cut so I can go out and spend it on illicit drugs."

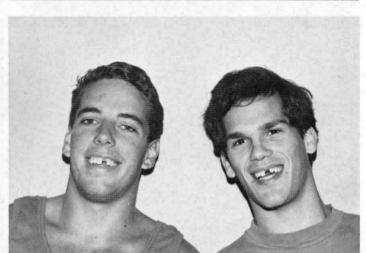

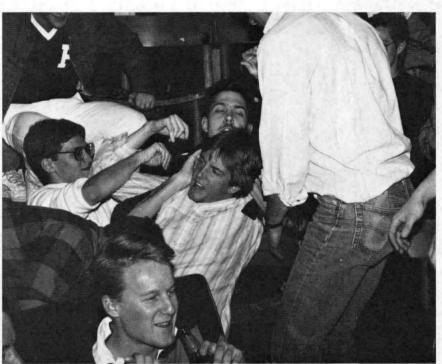

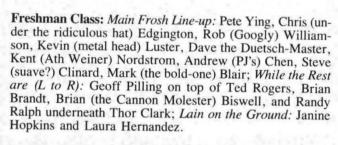

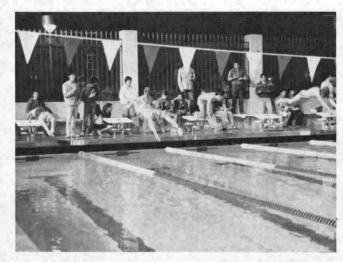

In the end, a trip to Tahoe the week after spring break was chosen, and some awesome condominiums were rented.

Spring break extended a week into the third term for Fleming House as hordes of Flems travelled to Tahoe for four god-awesome days of spring skiing and gambling ("Where did Assad go? Let's start looking again...").

There's an old saying that goes, "Getting there is half the fun."

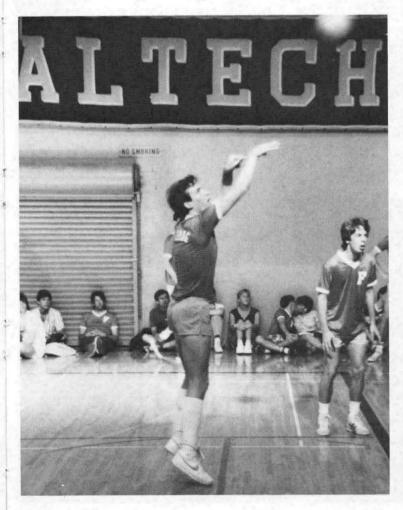

- -or was that "fur" on the underside of Z's car?
- -or maybe "fear" inside that little girl trying to board the schoolbus?

Anyway, everyone made it to the Condos—no thanks to the CHP weenies (not to be confused with the Ath Team weenies, who were mute all of third term) who handed out mega-tickets.

Even though the results were rarely announced at dinner, Fleming's B-Ball, Tennis, and Football teams made strong showings, propelling Fleming to its third Interhouse trophy in four years. The Big Red Machine also accumulated enough Discobolus points to return the trophy to its proper summer home: the mantle in the Fleming lounge.

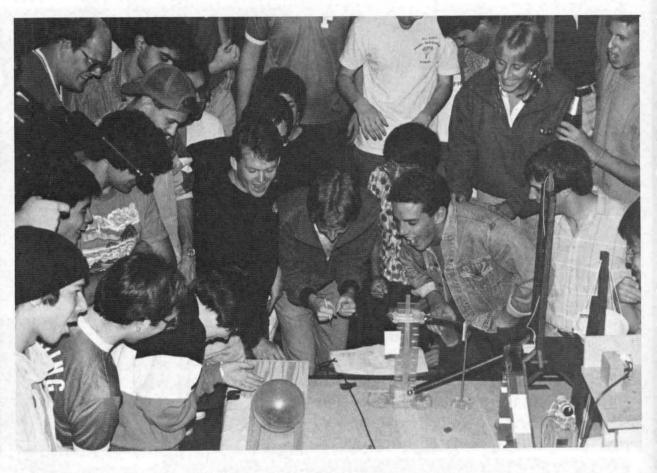

So, for the second straight year, the Fleming House Dining Room was host to a display of barbaric celebration: Animal Meal '87. The low attendance at Animal Meal was reflected in the statement, "What, we have to clean up the mess ourselves?"

Rich Arrietta and Steve Winters finally got clued in and joined Fleming House. Rumour has it that Burleigh got Winters in just so the social team could throw a few hottubbing parties at his place.

Frank's Nazi dinner guest schedule had eminent members of the Caltech community dropping by almost every Wednesday for a wine and (butt) cheese reception, followed by dinner.

Much to everyone's chagrin, the juniors won Outdoor Olympiad!

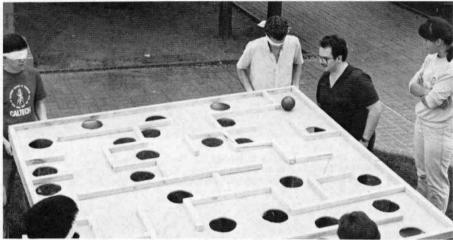

The collective Rube Goldberg stack was centerstage on Ditch Day and was (with a lot of coaxing on the hamster) eventually broken. The "Dating Game" and its prize of a dream date in Vegas could have gone to someone in the house—if only the guys who signed up had attended the game.

As people were leaving the GAM basement jackhammering and courtyard sandblasting for the summer, the cannon sounded for Eggleston and Ely as they finally graduated (and even Chaz's Caltech credits transferred over to Chico State!)!

SPORTS

LLOYD HOUSE

Well, I warned you all during the term that if you didn't give me any pictures to use in the yearbook, the Lloyd House section would be comprised of all words. It's not quite that bad, but it's pretty close. I feel like I'm cheating you guys because a picture is worth a thousand words, and at that rate, by golly, you're not getting the most out of your entertainment dollar. Anyway, on with the show.

The year started off with the usual shebang of Rotation, and the subsequent picking and initiation of the freshman. After getting to know them, we found that they were a top notch, cream of the crop, spirited, unified, dude-like group, and well, a great addition to the house. Things sped on to Mad Max Goes to Outer Space interhouse, which was built in a day in keeping with tradition. Unfortunately, the event was marred by violence, which I guess some people just don't enjoy. You would think that with all the wrecked cars, broken glass, camouflage, weaponry, and machismo flying around that people would begin to realize that love and understanding are the most valuable qualities a man can hope to have.

Second term began with the second annual Lloyd Ski Trip, which was a blast with a capital B. I cannot even begin to describe how much fun that was without using expletives. Now a lot of times I say things I don't really mean, or sometimes I'm a little sarcastic, but this is no joke. I can't remember a time when I had more fun than on the last two Lloyd ski trips. One small comment, though. I was just thinking: how come Earl fell down so much even though his center of gravity is about six inches above the ground?

Smack dab in the middle of second term was house elections. Some people won, some people lost; some were relieved, and others disappointed. I suppose it wouldn't be much of an election if nobody lost, but this time around, there was enough human drama lying around to do a successful mini-series. In either case, after all the votes had been tallied and the results were in, we proceeded to get real drunk and fall down.

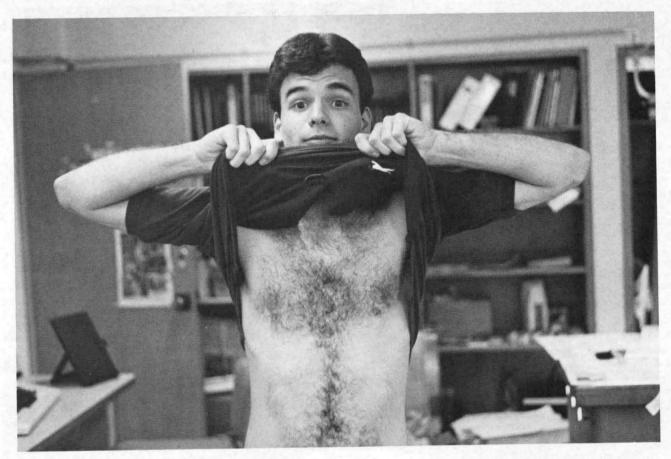

Third term was the term of KELROF, the term of the beach trip, and, of course, the term of graduation. First things first. KELROF came and, like last year, we somehow managed to field a full team of 10. I don't know about you, but to me, KELROF is "pain" spelled backwards. I have a great respect for the dedication, drive, and willpower of every participant, whether or not he was able to finish the race.

The beach trip was quite a success, but then again, how could it not have been? We got most of the freshman to go and pay homage to Fingal as well as pig out on hot dogs and marshmallows. Last but not least was graduation. This was no ordinary graduation. This was the year that Blic graduated. No, wait, this was the year that both Blic and Joey Graduated. Not to be rude, or anything but...Am I too late for that? Oh well.

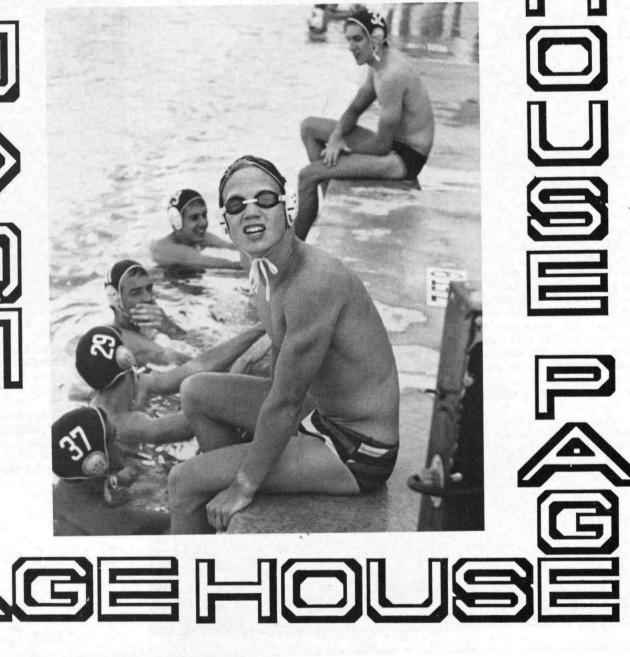

One final thing. (yes, I know this is long enough as it is) I was debating whether or not I should even include this bit since it is about a sole individual, and I already mentioned drinking in the section about elections. However, my mischieviousness won out over my common sense, so here it is. I will always remember this year as the year Ghani decided that alcohol was a really good thing. I mean, he'd had drinks before, but for some reason, he really started enjoying them this year. Since he lived off campus, some of the freshmen had never seen this man when he was sober; they had only seen him staggerring around the halls, with a stream of saliva hanging from the corner of his mouth, saying things like: "Whoops. Hep me lord Jesus...is this the floor? Yes, I, uh, think so. I think I'll be . . . no, I know it! I'm sitting right here and . . . do you have a cigarrette, dude? Thank you." and then laughing uncontrollably. I don't know how many times he was carried off to his off campus room.

Well, I guess that does it. Enjoy.

RICKETTS HOVSE

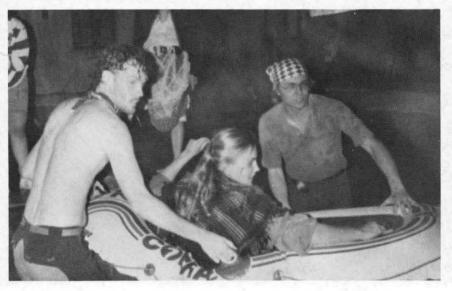

1986-87: The year Ricketts became Canada's House

The fall got off to a great start when Nero started playing the Plasmatics' tune "Tight Black Pants". Actually, the year got off to a great start when Ricketts managed to be picked by so many silly frosh that only South Ricketts (Blacker, that is) was able to top the performance. The 1986 Rotation was just the prologue to a great year for the Scurves.

The house without shoes actually decided to put something on for Interhouse in 1986. "Pirates" was the theme beneath it all and beneath most of the rest was water—lots of water—in fact, a whole courtyard full of water. Technical difficulties plagued the production; the most memorable of which caused the flooding of the basement. Scurves quickly discovered why pirates were so grumpy by finding themselves grunting, "Aaargh! It's 4 o' clock in the morning and I've got to swab these decks for another two hours!?! AAaargh!" For the night, people came out in costume, swordfights broke out all over campus, people indulged in gambling, Jason auctioned off slaves, slimy knaves raced boats, ropes were swung on and clumb, and swimmers swum. In short, it was a blast. (Actually, none of that went on that night.)

APACHE

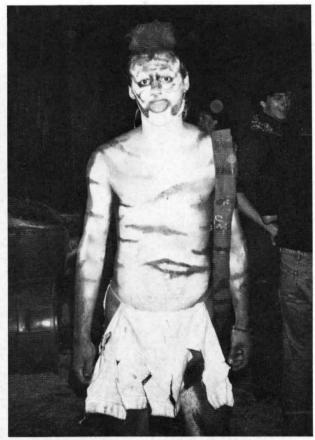

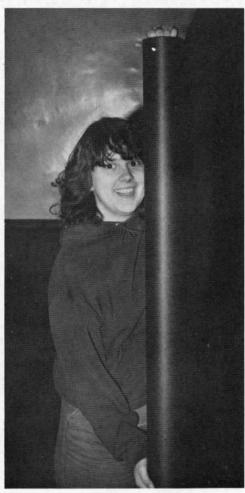

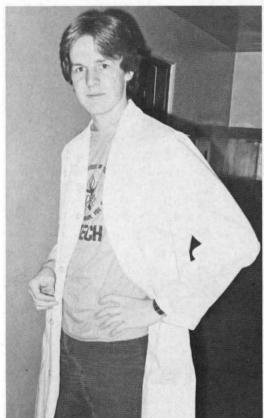

Apache charged around the February corner and met a house psyched to celebrate it. In the course of the evening, dancers exhibited their skill, the always-revealing garter contest displayed some lovely thighs, the frosh got sloshed, and Buddy and Melissa, the then candidate, but now current RA's, were there to see it all.

DITCH DAY

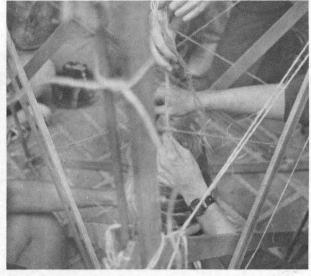

"Well, you can just rebuild the fort later, Harold... Phyllis and Shirley are coming over and I'll need the cushions."

Ditchday—it was great. Many men met many women for Rosie (Tom Shroomboy even finagled a prom date out of the frolic), Rolf's marbles were lost then found, Dave's maps were figured out, Jeff's numbers were deciphered, Francisco's dancing men were decoded, Kim had people babbling Dr. Seuss stories and "Conjunction junction," and Steve had people climbing all sorts of walls. Craig's 40-foot tower was built and was strong enough to be lifted into the courtyard to become a flaming spectacle—a great finale for a fun break from work.

The Arnold's feign death until the Wagners, sensing the sudden awkwardness, are compelled to leave.

OTHERS

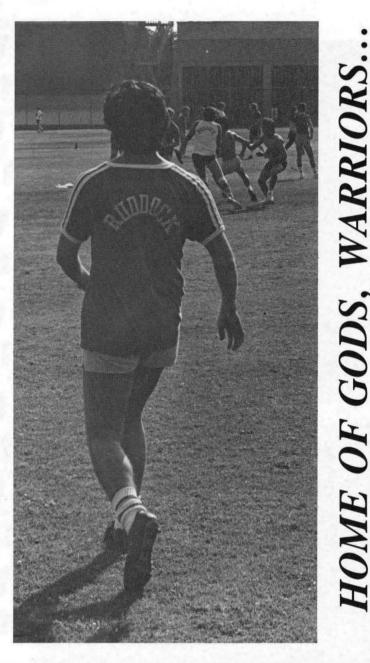

The beginning of first year in the semi- and pseudo-renovated Ricketts Hovse was spent dealing with sundry fascists of the higher administration. Despite much confrontation and discussion of the new maintenance policies, said policies did not budge an iota from those of October's inception. The tone-setting quote of the discussions was "They're not your houses!" As part of the material project, tiles appeared on Crud roof, and one was broken by a bottle as soon as they were put up. The new courtyard landscape design was decided on this year. The theme behind that discussion-"I don't mean a hedge, I mean densely packed bushes!"

In all, it was a fun, if tumultuous, 1986-87 year. There probably should be more to a concluding paragraph, but I don't know what to write, so I'll leave it here.

(The editors of this section would like to thank Glenn and Josh Frosh for all their help and everyone who gave us their pictures.)

RUDDOCK HOUSE

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, It was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness... Welcome to Ruddock House, '86-87. The year started like it always does: fresh-faced and freaky frosh rotated through and in due time a select group was showered in... And just when they thought it was safe to go out, Hassle Week began. The studly sophomores wreaked havoc on the poor little froshlings, sending them on desperate missions, wicked scavenger hunts and making them answer the evil question: Who is the pledge master? Hassle Week culminated in a mongo-bongo dogpile on the Court of Man as the sophomores protected Rich "Mr. 809" Till and the Frosh found a new use for kcodduR shirts. Now the real year began: Wayne's rude, crude, and socially enjoyable Sperm GAAC was a fine start.

Now the real year began: Wayne's rude, crude, and socially enjoyable Sperm GAAC was a fine start. It featured cream pies, contraceptive trash bags, and, of course, an airband contest. Interhouse was next. The Chicago Blues bar was the most successful Interhouse ever. Hos did a way-whippin' awesome job as Grand Dragon. Congrats to him and his Iguanas. And to end first term, Santa Biff, in his 'deluxe' santa suit, handed out presents from secret santas at the house Christmas party. Marty's tongue was undoubtedly the most memorable (lickable) present.

Winter break turned Alley 5 into a Nagel gallery and Alley 1 went binary. Almost before Mr. Pizzaman had to find room 10101010, Ruddock went on a weekend ski trip to Big Bear. Wicked fun, eh? Elections came along soon after that. Wayne got a promotion and the sophomores grabbed the reins of power. Installations were the typical formal affair with champagne, hors d'oeuvres, and people you couldn't recognize in their suits. Dave "Duppy" Proctor, being the official new librarian got the freshman class together and organized a great... no, a totally bitchin' beach party. Even if the 'Louis, Louis' lip sync didn't go over really well, Mr. Z's buns were nice and sand volleyball in the courtyard was pretty cool too.

MEN WHO CAN TAKE IT...

AND WOMEN WHO CAN HANDLE IT.

Third term was so much fun I nearly puked. Alley Wars were fun, The Drinkoff was fun, and even the six-house party was fun. Ditch Day was impressive. The Lurans had Pink Floyd's 'The Wall' built in the Alley 4 lounge; Alley 1 had a laser show; Biff and Eddieee had a EE stack; there was a Trivial Pursuit stack; a murder mystery; and a 3-D campus map for a scavenger hunt. Ed Mao was made into a gentleman, Joe was nice to Scheman and Craig flew to San Diego for a brick.

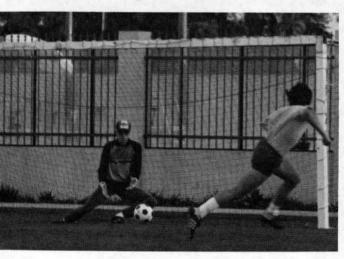

And then there were the worst of times: Ruddock held a commanding lead in Discobolus for 2 terms and then choked a softball game and a soccer game and got knocked out of the running. As for Interhouse Sports... well... people had a good time, we got lotsa great pictures, but we saved the godlike performances for next year. Go Ruddock Blue!

And so '86-87 drew to a close. Good luck to the seniors! It's Summertime! "it is a far, far better rest I go to than I have ever known... The End.

-Bets and Jeff

1 After the breakup of film critic Allan's (Don Huntington's) marriage, Linda (Elisabeth Scott) tries to salvage his self-esteem by fixing him up with a number of her friends and by taking him places to meet women.

Despite her efforts, however, Allan fails repeatedly. At the disco, he lusts after a beautiful dancer (Katharina Axelsson), only to humiliate himself by dancing so horribly that he chases everyone off the floor.

3 Allan's role model, Bogart (Ted Woodward), frequently appears in his daydreams, offering taciturn advice.

4 Meanwhile, as Linda helps Allan, her own marriage to Dick (David Stevens) is souring.

Prop Mistress Ami Choksi.

The morning after Linda (predictably) falls in love and sleeps with Allan, they awake early to contemplate their misery. Finally, or course, Dick discovers how badly he's been treating Linda, and Allan, self-esteem renewed, meets the answer to his dreams. The moral? Woody Allan's plays always have a happy ending.

Sweet Adds

Chris Wilson, Rachel Shinn, Cathy Hayes, Tricia Stoddard

Men's Quartet

Doug Balcom, John Daly, Joe Beckenbach, Brian Lemoff

- While on tour, many Glee Club members took time off to visit the Air Force Academy.
- 2 Monica Hubbard conducts a rehearsal.
- 3 Before each performance on tour, the choir members had to familiarize themselves with their new surroundings. In this church, Don Caldwell and accompanist Wendy Caldwell lead the warmup.
- The Glee Club members prepare for a performance at Loyola Marymount University.
- 5 The Sweet Adds perform one of their barbershop quartets. Because of Tricia Stoddard's illness, Carmen Shepherd sung Alto II.

STRIVE, one of Caltech's major political action groups, hosted a jobs fair this year, promoting employers who do not work for the government, thus avoiding "baby killing."

STRIVE

The Caltech Medieval/Renaissance Society (aka "House of the Voyagers"), which is affiliated with the Society for Creative Anachronism, endeavors to "recreate the Midble Ages as they should have been", with emphasis on chivalry, pageantry, and having fun (not necessarily in that order). At any rate, it's one hell of a way to get the diffy-as off your mind.

Lynn McGrath, Charles Fu, Daniel Briggs, Janis Beckenbach, Chris Bertani, Sean Johnston, Doug Bloomer (prez), Amy Carpenter (secretary), and Leif Bennett.

Doug bemonstrates his inimitable leadership style. ("Ts that really how they ran meetings before Roberts' Rules of Order?")

The traditional Maypole Dance ("choreographed flirtation...") at our annual May Tournament.

(I to r, top to bottom) Steve and Pamela Walton, Lynn McGrath, and two refugees from TACTT at the Renaissance Faire.

Foe Beckenbach (treasurer) considers absconding to Rio...

Fillmore Love ("Voted 'most likely to be left to hitch-hike home"").

Shane Groff and Susan Holveck.

Baron Morgan of Marionwood does battle with Leif Haralbson at the May Tourney.

Caltech Medieval/Renaissance Society

The Body-Looting Contest ("...or was that spelled 'Bawdy'-looting?...") at the May Tourney.

Settling a minor disagreement during Ditch Day . . . Earl Sir Edward Tan Anderson and Sir Dietrich Von Vogelsang in combat, with Joe refereeing the head-

Wesley ("Who's got the key to the y lounge?") Boudville. Who was that masked woman?

"A longship, and in chief a comet, azure, on a field argent": the badge of the House of the Voyagers.

The Caltech Service League was founded in 1947 for the purpose of promoting the welfare and happiness of Caltech students. Many of the members are parents of current or former Caltech students, or are families of staff members of Caltech or JPL, but any person sympathetic to students is cordially invited to join.

Some of the League's contributions to the Caltech community this last year includes:

Freshman Parents' Day

In cooperation with the Institute, the Service League sponsors a freshman parents' day, an orientation program to introduce freshman parents to the Caltech community. This all-day event features a panel discussion, lunch, a tour of the campus and a tea.

Student Activities

The League gives financial aid to student groups such as the Glee Club, various instrumental groups, the ASCIT drama production, the California Tech, the little t, the Big T, and the Caltech Y.

Decompression Evenings

In cooperation with the Caltech Y, the Service League has helped with "Decompression Evenings," an open house in Winnett Student Center during each of the final examination periods. All students are invited to take a break from study and drop in for conversation, music, games and a snack. Ther Service League gives a financial donation toward the supply of food, such as milk, fresh fruit and vegetables.

Thanksgiving Turkeys

During the Thanksgiving Holiday, a roasted turkey is delivered to each student house. Some financial donation is given toward a dinner in the co-op houses.

Health Center

To make a student's stay more pleasant, the Service League provides items such as juices, soups, robes, pajamas, newspapers and magazines, and occasionally, such things as heating pads. A microwave oven was donated in memory of Doris DuBridge. Members also assist the Health Center staff on occasions such as the flu clinic when volunteer workers are needed.

Christmas Boxes

The League places in each student house a large box of homemade cookies and other treats for the students who remain on campus during the Christmas holiday.

Well Baby Clinic

Children up to age two of students and research fellows may receive checkups and immunization free of charge at this clinic.

Baby Furniture

Students may borrow cribs, strollers and other equipment needed by their small children. If the supply is large enough, research fellows and visitors to the Institute may also use this equipment.

Plant and Bake Sale

To augment its income, the Service League holds Plant and Bake Sales thoughout the year.

Those interested in joining the Caltech Service League or who have suggestions about how they can be of help to students can contact the Service League by writing to:

Everyone knows that Caltech is without peer as an institution, a community, a way of doing things. Who's the best for audio? Video? Computers? GNP SHOWCASE, a store founded by Caltech students and grads. The connection makes a difference -- and it's the way we do business, too. We continue to offer discounts to the Caltech community, past and present. Our seven years of service and support are unparalleled by others. And we have a most knowledgeable staff, ready to answer your questions in a comfortable relaxed atmosphere.

Please come see us on the corners of Chester and Colorado. Our Audio/Video salon, 'GNP WEST', in our existing location at 1244 E. Colorado Boulevard -- and our new expanded computer store, 'GNP EAST', three doors down at 1254 East Colorado. We won't burden you with high pressure sales, midterms, or useless stacks (of information).

We look forward to serving you at GNP Showcase.
