We, the studs of Alley Six, challenge the slimy, lowly, scatological life forms of alley five. Our proposal for vanquishing these fecal beings is hereby appended: (A feat of skill and daring)

"FEED THE CLAM"

Each side forms a team of 6-10 members. A clam shall be drawn on the floor of the noble dining room whose center is 9.5 feet from the south wall. The clam's center shall be at least 10 ft. from the east or west walls. A participant must stand with his feet behind the 22 ft baseline. The participant shall toss a penny against the south wall, above the wood paneling, and attempt to place the penny inside the boundaries of the clam. Due to obscure properties of clams, only pennies of positive parity can be consumed. Therefore, only pennies that land heads up completely inside the "contour" can be scored.

A member of alley five shall have 5 consecutive attempts to feed the clam. Then a stud from Alley Six shall do the same (and undoubtedly outscore his scummy opponent's feeble attempts). This process shall be continued until each side has thrown 50 pennies. No member of a team shall throw again until all the members of the team have thrown, and any attempts that fail to hit the south wall above the paneling may be repeated without penalty. The winning alley will be the one with the highest score. If necessary, ties may be broken by 10 additional throws until the tie is broken in accordance with the above rules.

This year the Model United Nations team travelled to Seattle to represent Pakistan. Students from approximately a hundred west coast colleges meet for the annual conference. The Caltech Karate Club

Thanks to Mr. Oshima's incomparable instruction and inspiration, the Caltech Karate Club marked its milestone twentieth year with the largest and one of the strongest memberships in its history. In the twentieth year since its founding as the first university karate club in the United States, the club comprised thirty members, including eight brown belts and four black belts. The club was also well represented in both winter and summer regional karate special trainings.

Tom McDonnell and Kar-Woo Yung were this year's captains.

KELROF 24 HOUR RELAY

Manzella and Bourret ham it up, but the going gets rough after dark. Burnett checks his splits with one of the 60 people who helped time, while Burns and Gray grind out the miles. The results: Kellogg's Eighth Light Regiment of Foot - 262 miles, 1316 yards; Armadillos - 231m, 1490y; Fantastic Fleet-Footed Frosh - 201m, 1229y; Caltech Cripples w/o Crutches II - 191m, 410y; Dregs - 164m, 1343y.

Kellogg (who was serious) quoting Colgrove (who was kidding) quoting Liddy (who was crazy) quoting Nietzsche (who's dead): "That which does not kill me makes me stronger."

Glen George strides into the setting sun. When it was over, KELROF had run the equivalent of 10 marathons.

A slightly poorer than usual 7-10 season featured some close matches. After beating Whittier twice in dual meets, Tech was edged by 1 point in the SCIAC finals. Revenge soon came in the District Meet by a not-so-close score of 218 to 291. The "meet of the season" was against Ambassador, whose superior depth slightly outweighed a 1-2 Caltech finish. Everyone performed well - most ran their best home course times ever, breaking personal records by incredible ($\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$ minute) amounts.

Throughout the season, Celia Peterson devastated all her competition. She ran a solid 4th position on the men's team, and won the SCIAC women's championship by 3 minutes. At press time, she had run a 2:41:48 marathon, one of the alltime ten best women's times in the world.

At season's end, the varsity squad (in order) was composed of Bourret, George, Gould, Peterson, McArthur, Loh, & Gray. Rob Bourret was given the Paul Barthel Award.

Torrential rains interfered considerably with both training and competition, but there were a number of significant achievements during the track season. In spite of a 1-6 dual meet record, we placed higher in both the SCIAC and District Meets than last year.

Bryan Sutula was the high-point man, and set the first school record in the decathlon at 4,852 points. Norm Murray contributed more than half the team's points at the SCIAC championship meet by placing in the 100, 220, and 120 high hurdles. Rob Bourret ran a season's best 1500 of 4:04.4 and won the Goldsworthy Trophy. Bill Gould inaugurated another new school record with 10:20.1 in the 3,000 meter steeplechase. Celia Peterson won the women's 2-mile by 40 seconds and placed 4th in the mile at the league meet.

" Where men are MEN

Rotation was barely over before Baker and Sexton took a close look at Ph 125 and switched to APh. Bob Winchell, as pledge master, had time to utter a few obscenities before the frosh caught on. Fecathelon came and went, the alley challenges eventually reaching a nadir of team hearts.

Interhouse was good. The theme was Casablanca. Sue Fuhs and Greg Blaisdell made the lounge resemble the bar in Casablanca, bartenders J. & J. Jacobs with a nice touch of a slowly revolving fan, provided by Louis Testa. The courtyard, a Moroccan desert, by Rono Mathieson and Lee Heiman, with palm fronds, sand, a tent and Bruce Prickett as desert nomad. A fountain by Record, Jacobs and Winchell in the walkway.

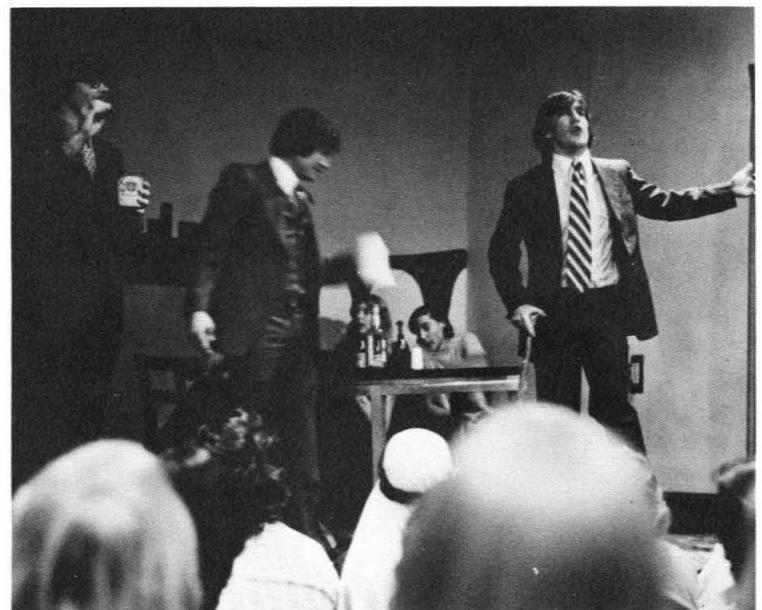

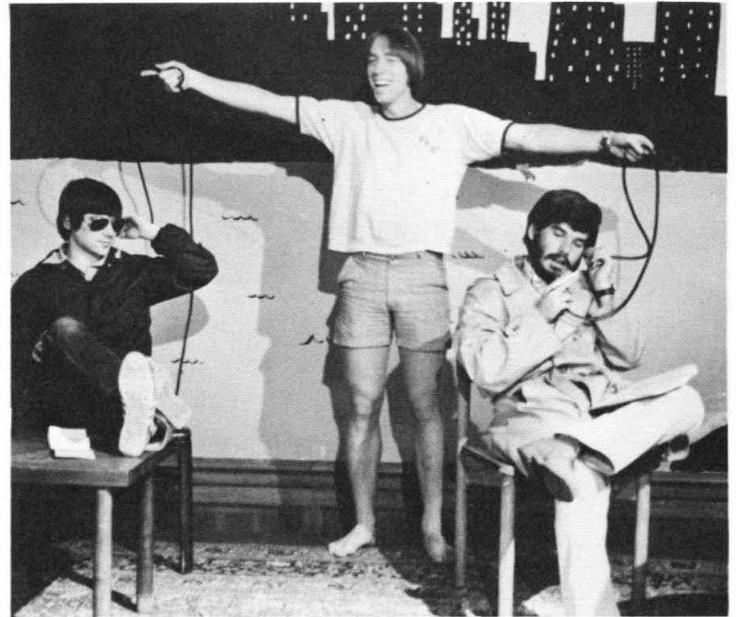

Bryan Sutooless made the balcony, and Heiman worked the lights for the play, a parody of Casablanca written by Neil Cotter. Chris "P." Sexton, as Rick (remember Bogart?) held the leave papers for Doug Jones, who as Professor Victor Lowlife, was trying to escape Caltech with the secret of the Bozon Bomb. Lyn Brown won hearts as Foxy Roxy, professor's wife and Rick's old flame from MIT (re: the infamous Foxy Roxy guide to MIT males).

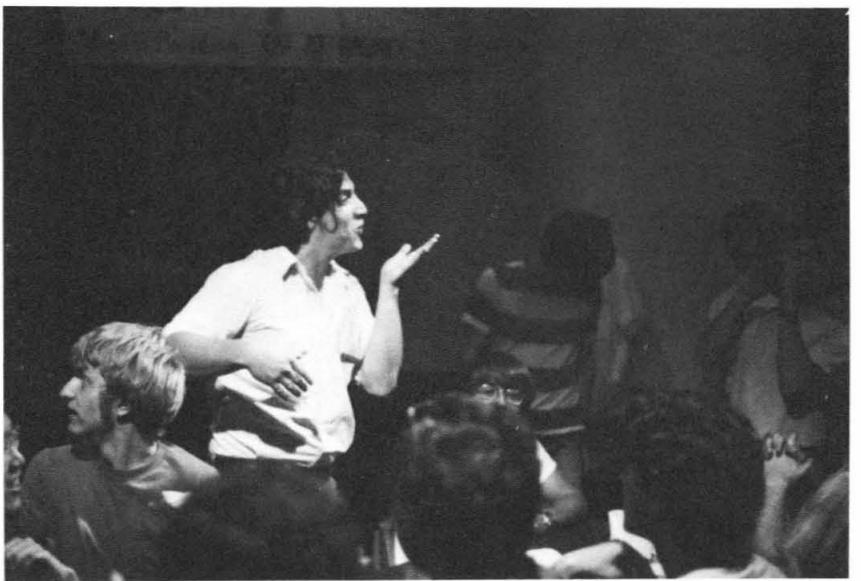

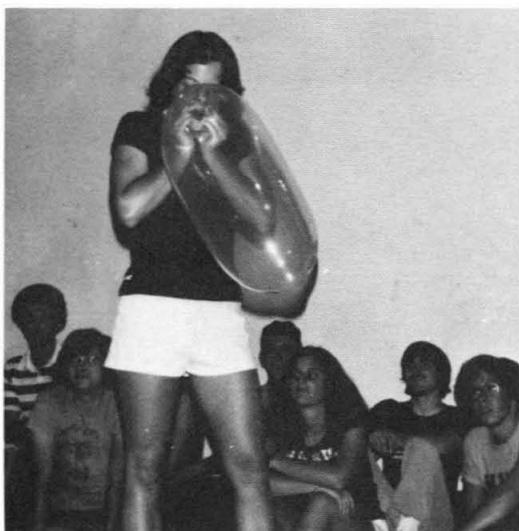

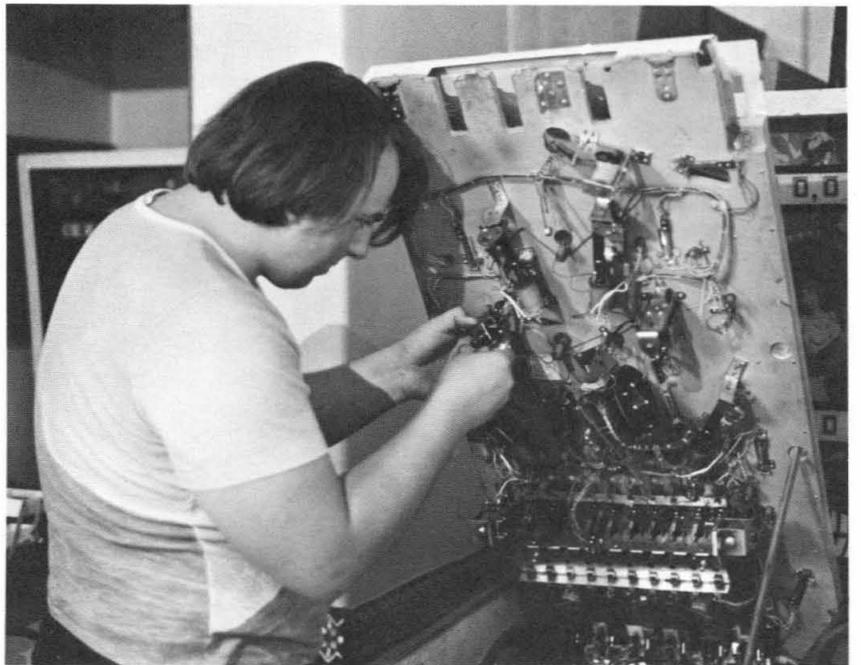

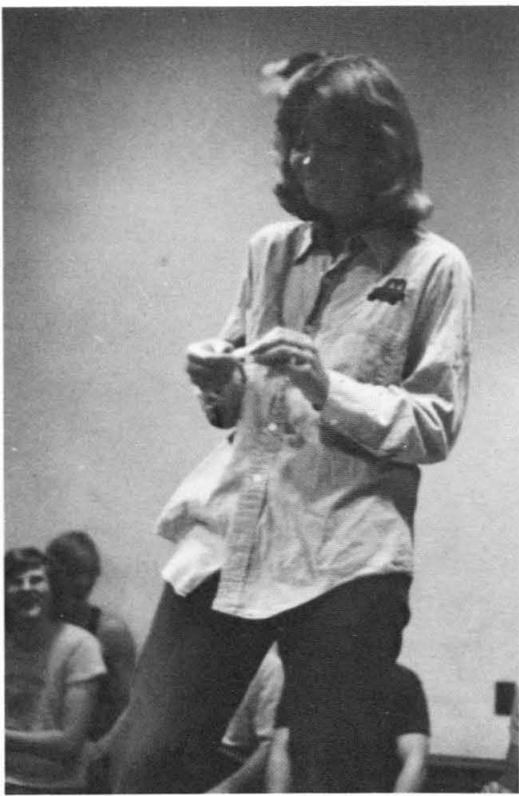

The houses were characterized as the other actors tried to steal the bomb. Good performances by Louis Testa as the inspector, Larry Friedrich as the mole underground, Larry Lader as random Page boy, C.T. as Lloydie hot after Rick, Joe Miller as a Darb, Bryan Dunkeld as Ma Bell and a plane, John Lovberg as Sam with a flute. Of course, the bomb went off and the Bozo twins were left standing.

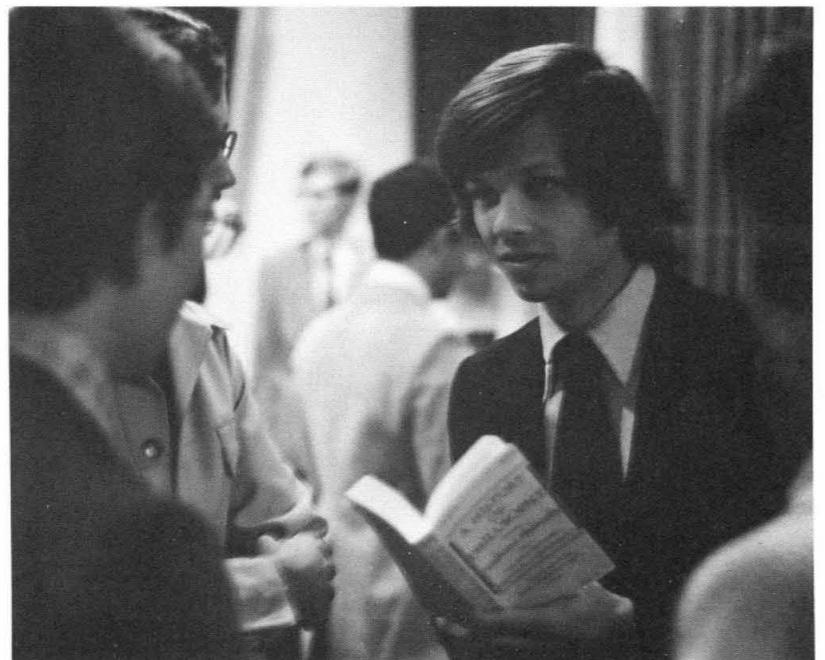

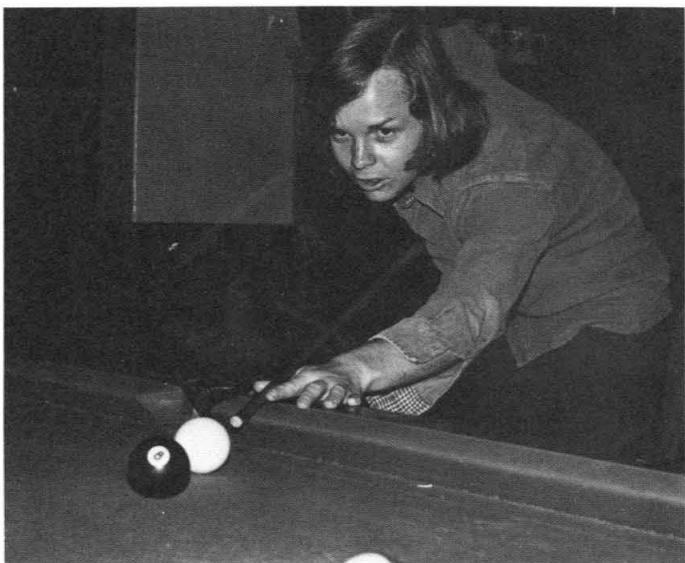

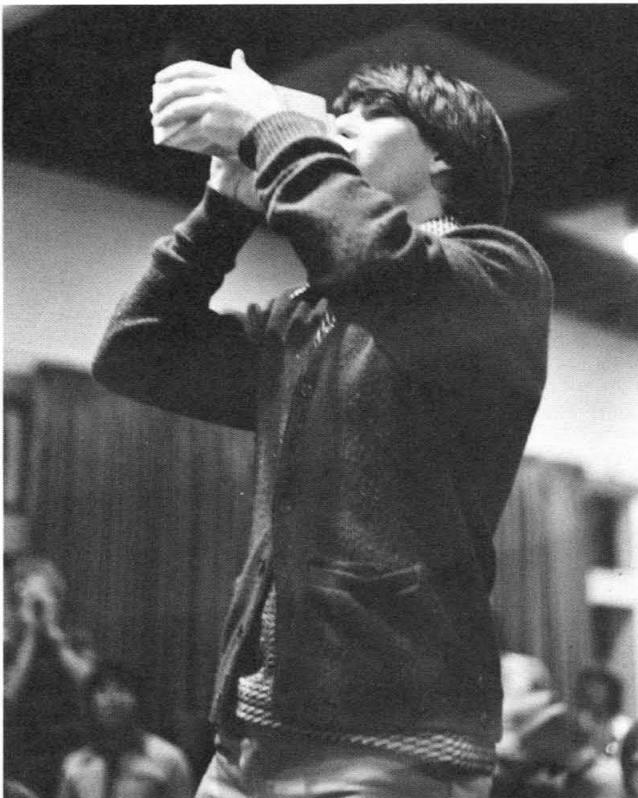

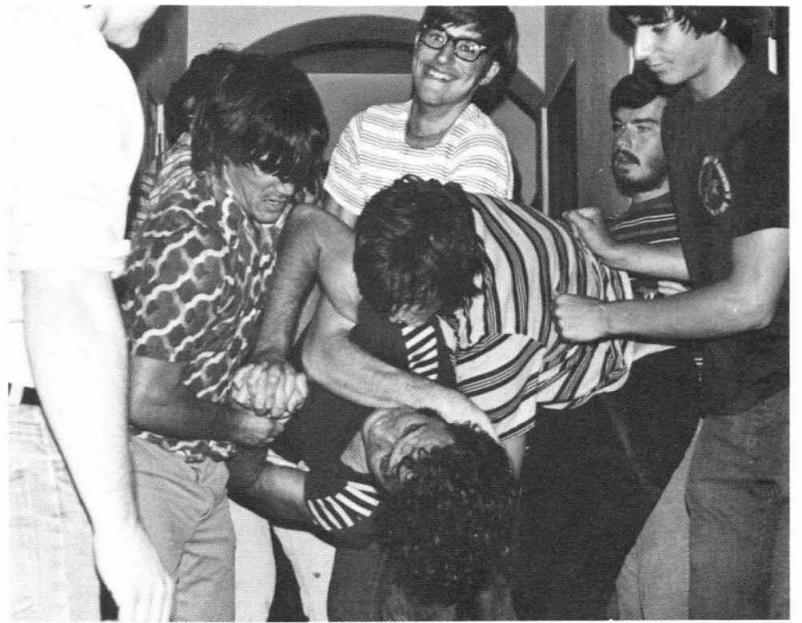

After Interhouse, the term was not done. There was a two-house party with Ruddock. We won Interhouse swimming and softball.

The women of Fleming organized a Fleming women's dinner and went to Kebakian's where Z. Newsome and Maurisa got chided for not cleaning their plates.

The Big Red Flag was stolen and eventually was found wrapped around the Blacker House president, whose?? friends?? had deposited him in the Alley 6 archway. He declined to comment on his abductors.

Second Term

We lost several frosh and upperclassmen over Christmas break. Sue came back to find her room gone, totally. It eventually reappeared.

Seniors started going heavily to job interviews and finishing grad school applications.

The Sophomore Tabernacle Choir of last year, not being vocal this year, was replaced by Alley 2 singers of Alley 5 with renditions of "Bohemian Rhapsody" and "More Than a Feeling." Jamie Abbott provided vocal talent and guitar backup, Paul Snyder and Dave Adams on screech, blowing out a few fuses of Joe DiGiorgio's speakers. The rest of Alley 2 also provided back-up vocals.

Maybe it was with all the music, but Jesse, and his sidekick Wendell Smith, complained that Fleming had turned into Ruddock. Then, they proceeded to pull Werner up from the gutter onto the curb.

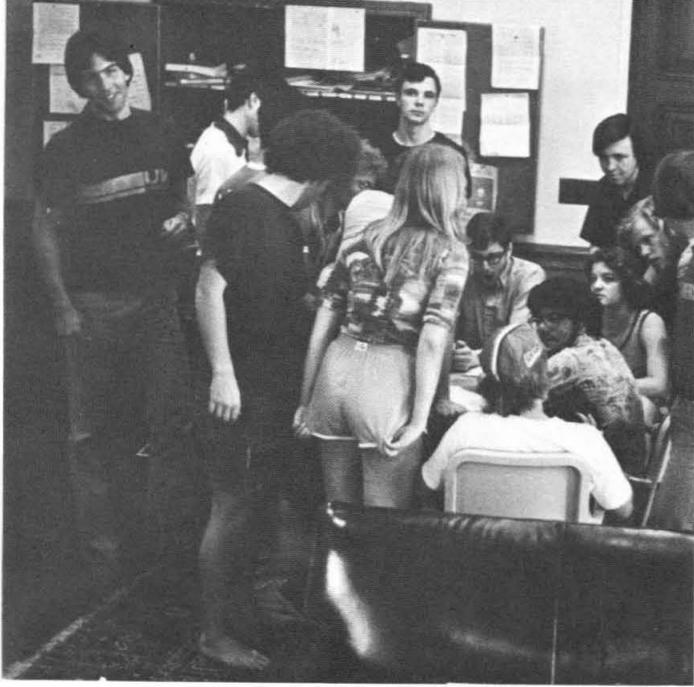

The beer refrigerator started again, with bottles, and Jesse Slater taking care of it. The Alley 5 SWAT team started appearing. The indoor olympiad, the sophs won, then the seniors, frosh and last, the juniors. There was a seven-house party.

The R.A. party was held at Sneed's apartment with Mr. F. creating vats of great chili and Zondra serving.

The California drought also ended this term, wreaking havoc on the outdoor alley challenges, to the "dismay" of IACCOFH chairman Nails.

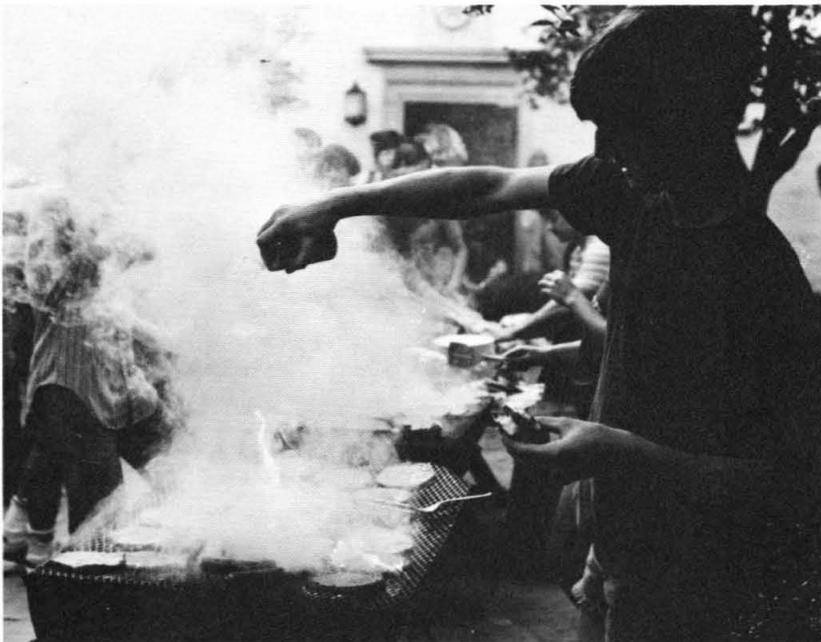

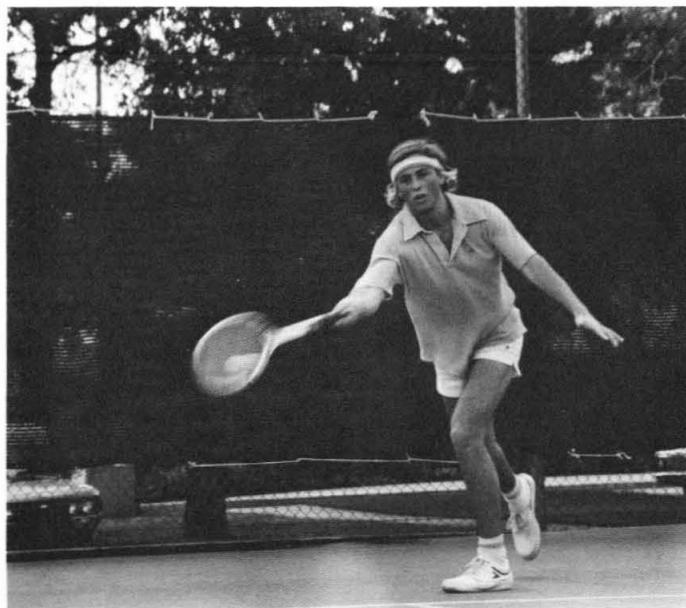

Wendell to Tom Brikowski to Bruce "B." Baker to Tom... the head waiters seemed to change quite a bit. Thereupon all men in the house were either showered or ponded. There was a little trouble getting Mikey under, but Ken sacrificed his dry clothes.

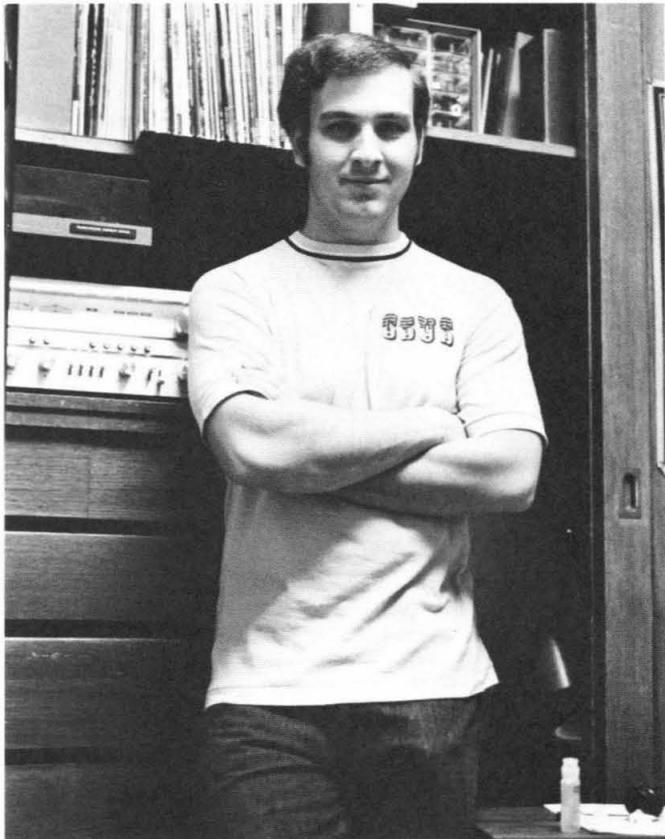

The Bell passed to Ken Rousseau, with Jeff Record as his V.P., leaving Bruce and Chris to sit back and relax. Tom Brikowski relieved Larry Lesyna as secretary, and Dave Adams took over Mike Machado's job as treasurer. (Joe DiGiorgio was finagled into becoming debt collector, a wise choice, as he lived next door to the person with the largest running debt. "Please... one more call to Houston!") The new ath team electe:l consisted of Jamie Abbott, Larry Friedrich, Terry Thomason and Greg Blaisdell. Rono Mathieson, Lee Heiman, Erik Eriksen and Lyn Brown became the social team.

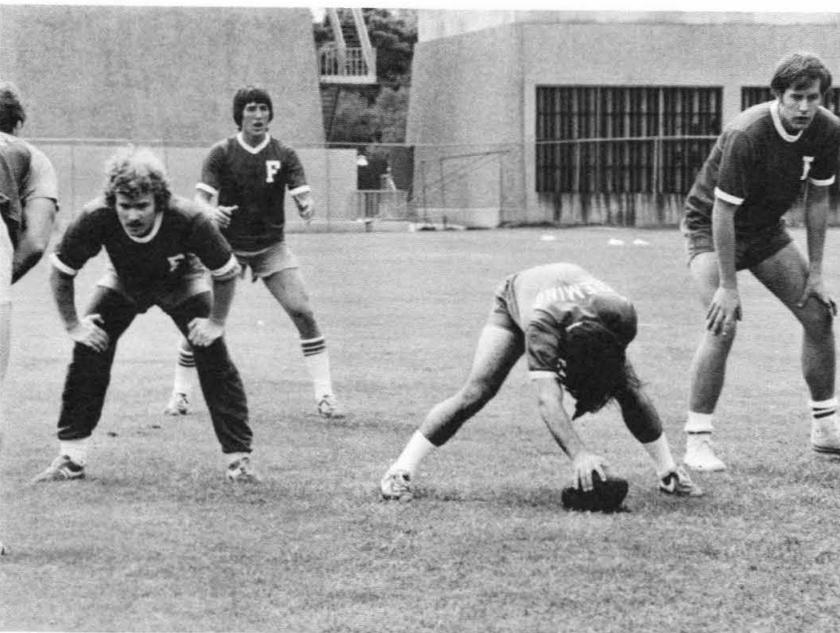

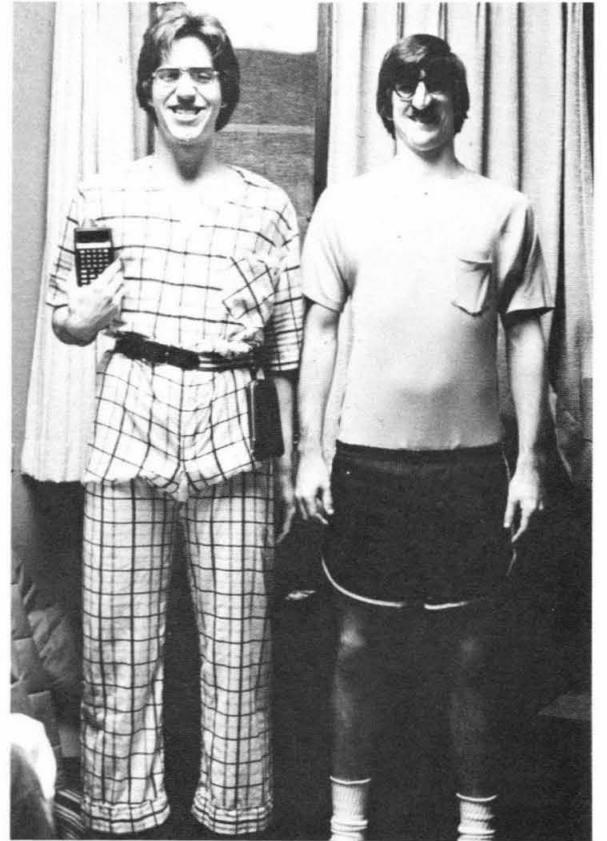

Mathieson, Heiman, Lyn and Sue took care of an elegant wine and candlelight dinner with crepes.

The last match with Page in Interhouse tennis was the object of much debate, being originally rained out, and re-re-scheduled. Fleming took second in Interhouse tennis and second in track, which was rained out for a week. It was a wet term, in more ways than just rain.

Third Term

The frosh really shaped up third term. They beat the Page boys in a football challenge and Lloyd in a soccer challenge.

On the other hand, without these frosh victories, house morale would have taken a beating. Page beat us in Interhouse volleyball, Discobolus volleyball and Interhouse basketball. . . For the first time in many years, Fleming did not take either the Discobolus or Interhouse trophies.

During the frosh challenge, the Page boys attacked the lounge, however, back in our element. a lot of Page boys got wet. Speaking of wet, wonders never ceased, as about 15 Blacker moles attempted to shower Ken. Boxed into Lower 5, they were picked off one by one, as the Big Red Machine rolled in force.

Housing had decided to spend bucks to improve student houses. Fleming decided to have the Alley 1 wall knocked out to make an Alley 1-6 kitchen. This might be started this summer.

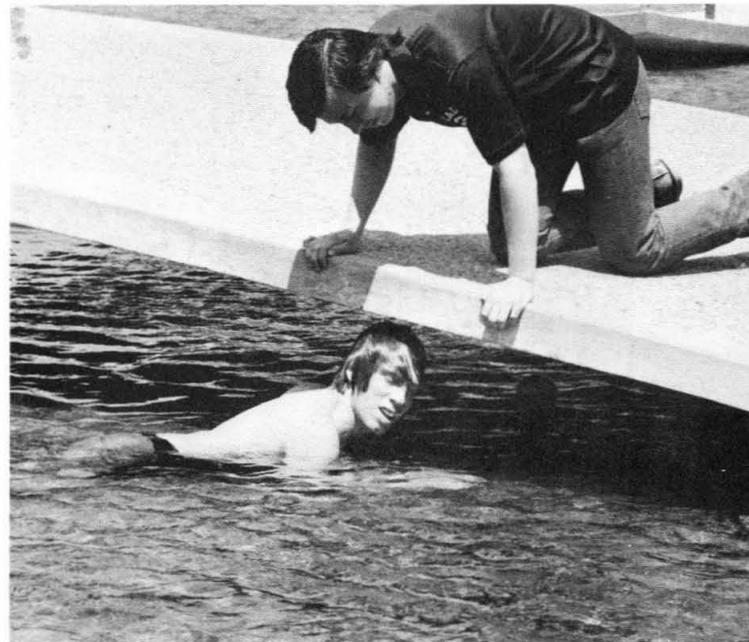

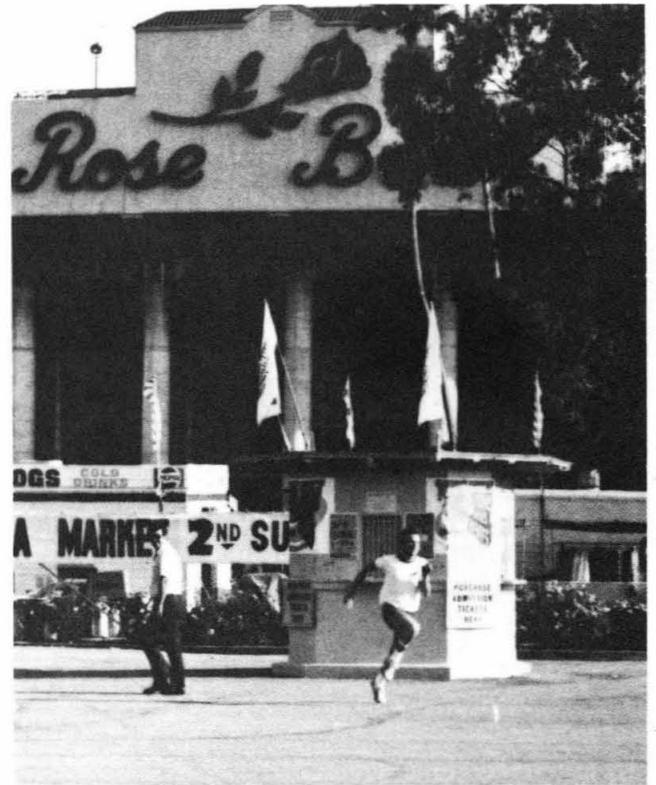

Carol T., Coleen Ruby and Pat Huber (Lovberg on broccoli), assisted by the Fleming waiters, took second in the seven-house cooking contest - winning $250 for Fleming.

Dean Brackett, Joe DiGiorgio and Jesse Slater were picked as UCCs to take the place of graduating seniors C.T., Chris and Ed Keller. Wendell Miyaji, Leslie Paxton and Neil Cotter remained as old hands for next year.

The final sports standings were: second in volleyball, third in basketball and third in football. The Page boys challenged us to a soccer game, which we won.

Outdoor olympiad came the day after alumni day - so many older Fleming friends dropped by to say hello. The frosh Rose Bowl run took 15 min. 23 sec., close to the record. The final standings went: juniors, seniors, sophomores and, finally, frosh.

Congratulations and Good Luck to Alan Comer and Lisa, Lee Paul and Karen, Ken Rousseau and Leslie Paxton, who became engaged this year, and to Jeff Blins and Cindy, Dean Sanzo and Ava, who were married.

LLOYD HOUSE

Another year has passed and that menace to the freedom-loving world, Lloyd House, is still extant. This writer is too burned out from printing pictures to say much, but he'll try to remember something.

Of course, first term was when we got new freshmen and washed them. Schafer tried to flood room 101 by having all the toilets in the house flushed simultaneously. For Interhouse Lloyd gave a glitter rock concert. We found out about the real Jim Hunter and about what creative dressers live among us. About this time we noticed that the old days are gone. No longer does anyone worry about the draft, because getting engaged is a more common fate. Congratulations to Matt Hefron and Susie Santucci, and to Steve Schafer and Janet Duerr, that one-time Lloydie. Finals week saw the usual early morning concerts featuring Mike Thompson, and at Corona, the off-campus alley, a spirited stereo war took place.

During the winter term it rained so hard that Lloyd and Corona became waterfront property. The Social Committee(s) did a great job with a party in Dabney Hall, trips to the Tutt exhibit, &c. The Inferno alley challenge took place, but I don't know who won. A lot of Lloydies joined the ASCIT Musical, and at campus elections ASCIT assumed a definite Lloyd flavor. Chem majors began dropping classes. Fred jammed. The flu struck hard.

Third term we found out about the real Al Drehman. The seniors sweated, but most of them made it out, much to our relief. The Extravaganza, movies, a beach trip, and a party at Jim Mayer's entertained. I never cleaned the library. Summer arrived none too soon for our house studs, Goodwin, Earle, and Fischer.

By the way, thanks to the staff: for photos, Bacon, Baxter, Berger, Coles, Scranton-Wood, Thompson, Lee Tutt. For layout, Berger, Coles, Gutierrez, Tally. For trying when they didn't have to, Gutierrez and Morrow.

Well, Lloyd gets only ten pages this year and a photo is worth a thousand words. . .

Well golly gee gosharoonies, kids! Wasn't that some swell year we went through? It certainly was fun for the ol' White Horse and Railroad! Just look at all the nifty things that happened: * We built a flowing river down our main alley for the Interhouse Dance! * The waiters built their very own weight room! * We had a bunch of parties! * Dale got stoned at all of them! * Francis got his very own nickname! * Izzy became our new grand high exhalted mystic matriarch (house president)! * RC replaced Izzy as VP! * Gabe replaced Chucky replaced Ben as secretary! * Big Wern was trashed, dumbwaitered, and oceaered for his birthday! * The frosh were initiated into the house! * There were many singles this year! * Runge remained pure! * Hal had his room cleaned on Ditch Day! * We won Interhouse! * We won Discobolus! * KT became uncontrollable! * Sue was swept down a river! * Maggie's Farm continued for two more terms! * Joe threatened to napalm KKAL! * The Three Stooges were trashed by the waiters! * The KELROF 24 Hour Relay was held for its second year in a row (thus becoming tradition)! * There were naval maneuvers on Millikan pond! * Tiny Walter became our new BCC rep! * Ronald kept losing his clapper! * Lisa was still Lisa! * Alley surfing was held again! * The Time Warp was the rage! * Chris Rogers became a sex symbol! * Bob Chang died! * Belvoir moved to the bathroom! * And Rene ... **

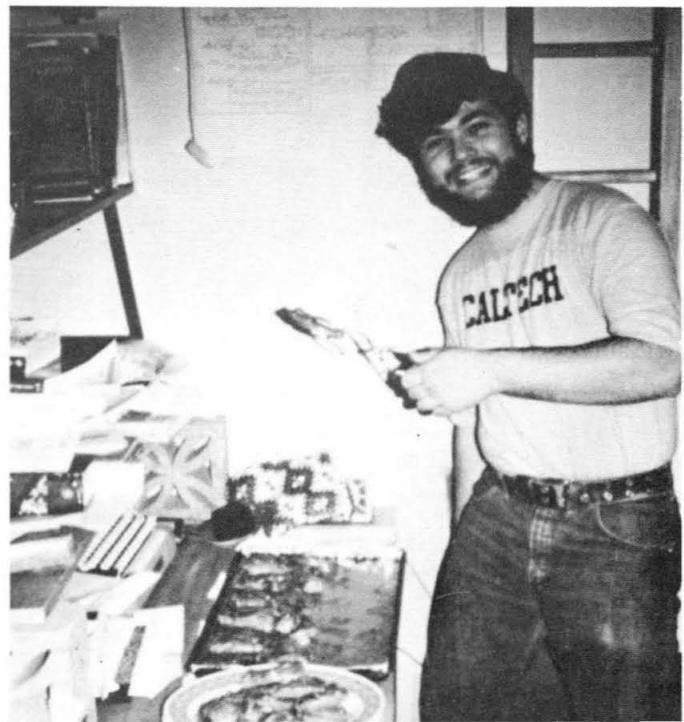

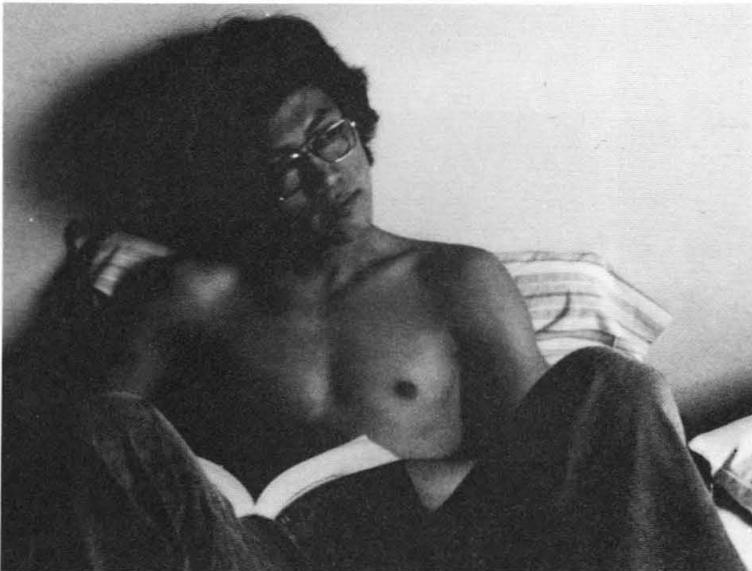

In spite of the female shortage, we somehow seem to manage.

The Committee for the Beautification of the Third Floor of Millikan in action.

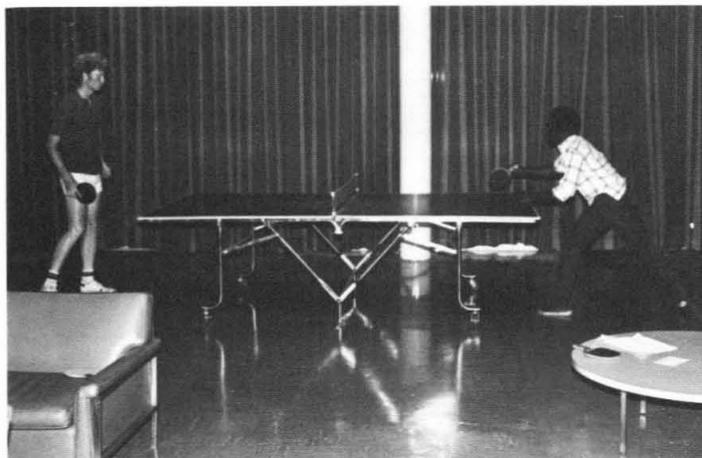

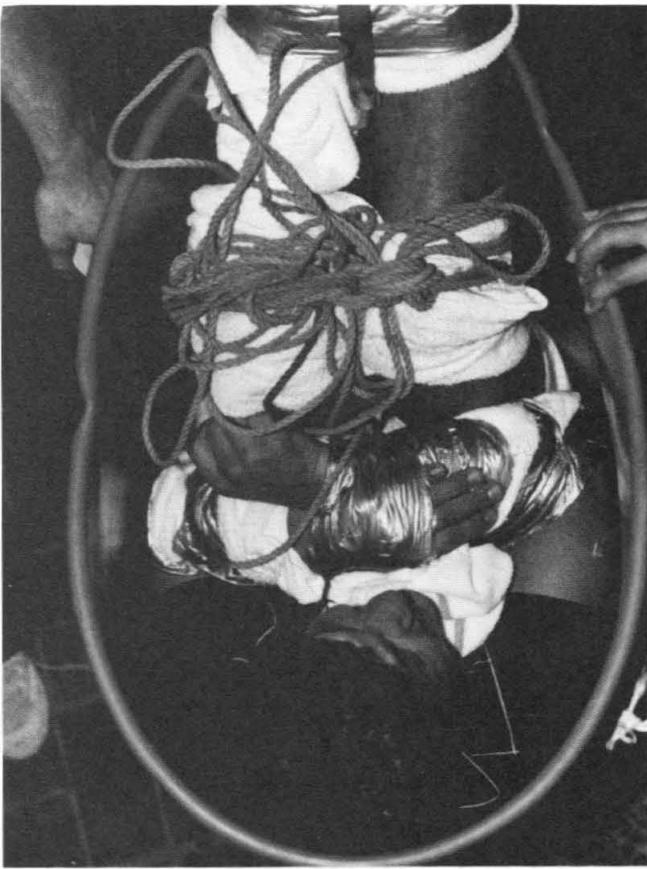

Still, was it really worth it? After a little thought, I came to the conclusion that this is a trite, rhetorical question which is geared toward the obvious answer. It is questions like this one which authors of yearbook sections love to use in order to generate the ol' sentimental tear-jerk effect. So, let's throw out this question in favor of one which is on all our minds: what ever happened to Jamie and Alex?

Welcome to...

RICKETTS HOUSE

The year began with Rotation, as usual. We gained 28 new frosh, exclusive of GMF and Josh Frosh. Four, count 'em four of these were members of the fairer sex, to which also belonged two of the sophomore transfers. The frosh were welcomed with (deceptively) open arms and shown that cleanliness is next to Scurviness, and R-O-Sker was put in charge of satiating upperclass sadism involving showers.

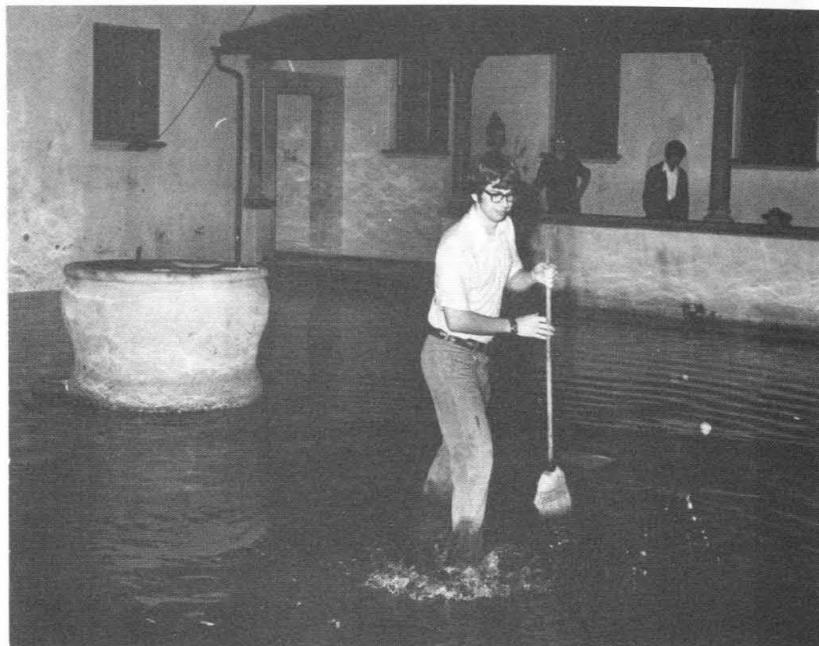

Four square died after rotation, with only meager revival attempts during elections and finals weeks.

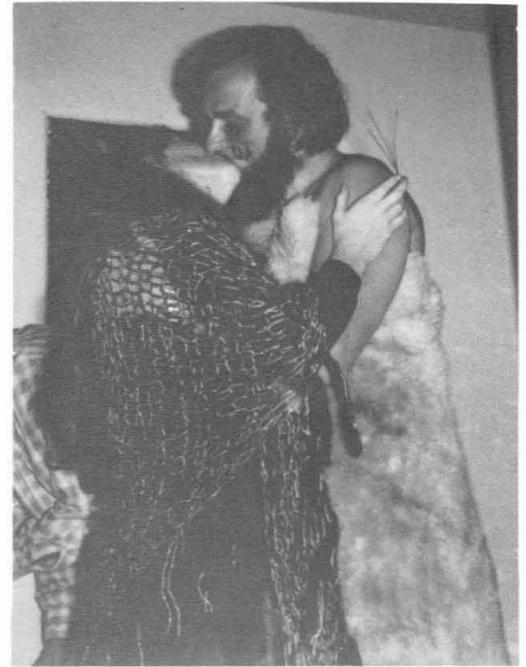

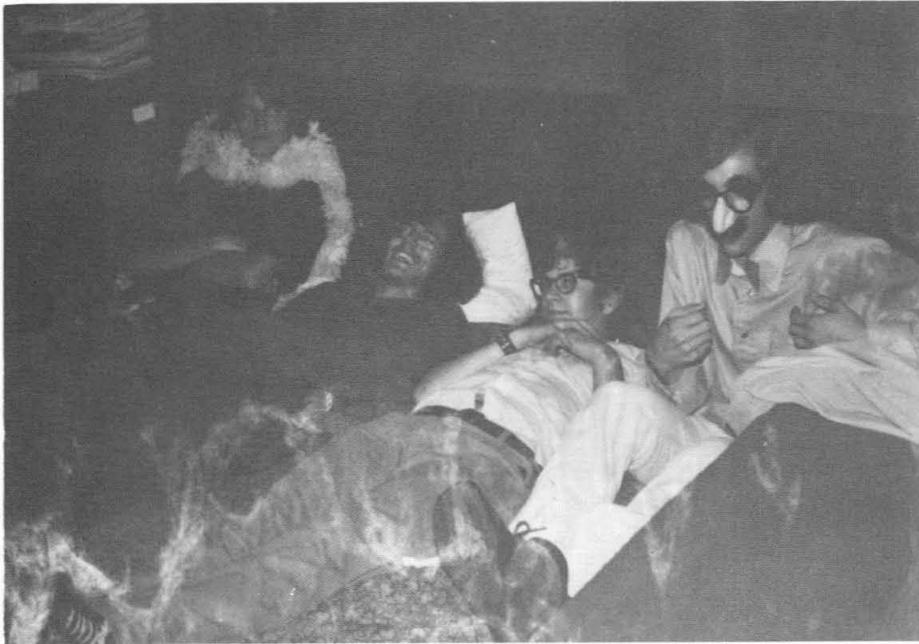

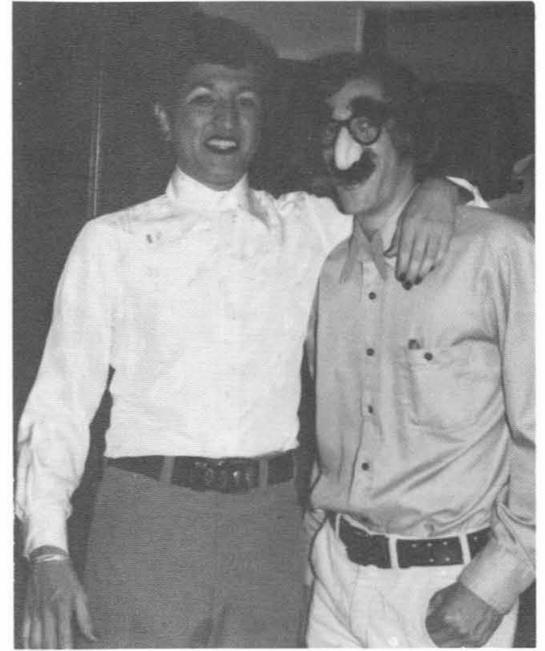

Other first term highlights included the Halloween costume party, which demonstrated that the House will fit into Prexy, and Interhouse—a reproduction of Haight-Ashbury with a little work and less organization, but a lot of fun.

After a well-deserved and much needed Xmas break, we returned to find Lake Ricketts and its lone Pot Island awaiting us after the rains of '4 days and 4 nights'. Lomax, Briscoe, Hunter and French had the good sense to leave, but were quickly replaced by the naive(?) Flanagan, Chesda, Kendall and Van Eck. Ron Merkord made life interesting for Ray (and later Paul) thru his mastery of fast rate, high energy yield reactions. Apache came and went but apparently the participants enjoyed themselves too much to make a photographic record of the event. Elections occurred following Apache with 'the substantial consumption of alcohol and the liberal use of the showers' (quoted from the little t) and the following results (understandable given the stuporous condition of the electorate):

President: Paul Magliocco
Executive V.P.: Bill Ray
Social V.P.: Jim Jensen
Treasurer: Pat Moran
Secretary: Bill Lawson

Librarian: Jim Heckman
Social Team: *Dan Lathrop, John Platenak,
Bill Ray, Stanzi Royden*
Ath Team: *Ole Eichhorn, Cindy Flanagan,
Les Niles*

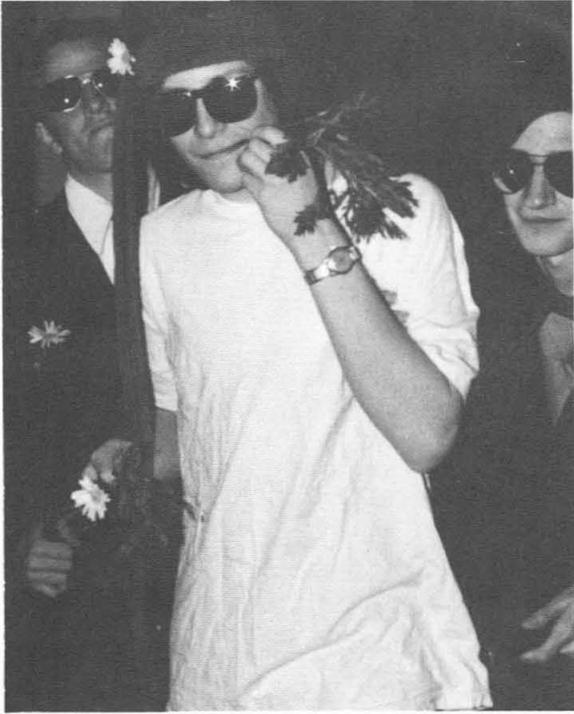

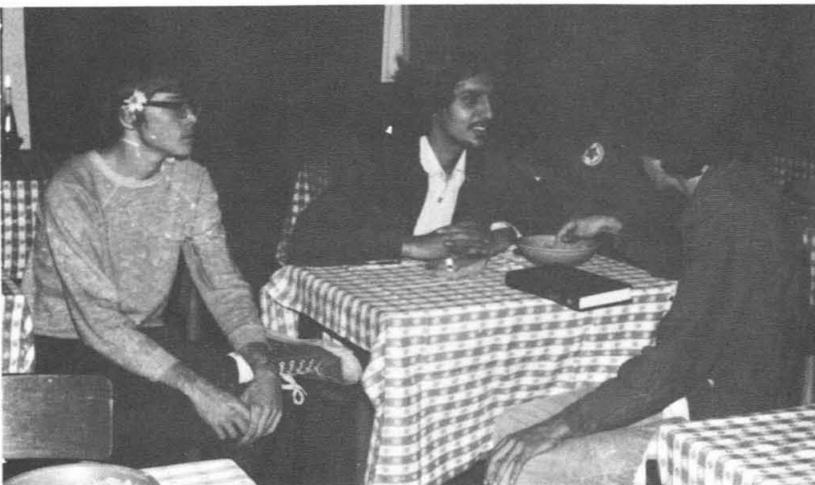

This one is real.

HALLOWEEN

Extolling the virtues of Crud Alley

I have to fill THAT?!

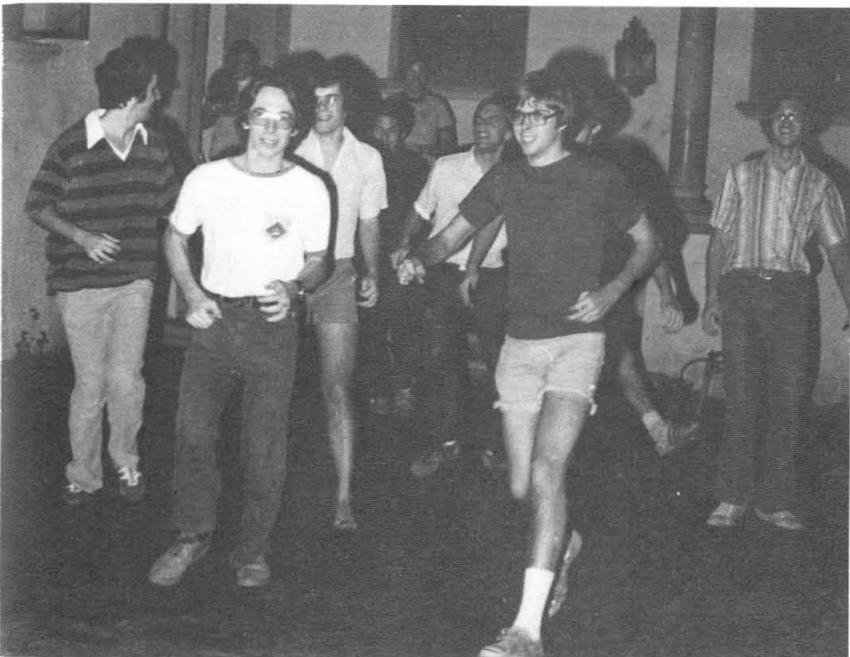

En route to Heaven & Hell

Third term found Ralph Page officially gone; Wheeler, Campos, Renckly and Cisar officially fled and Walker Moreno, Mortin and Lee unofficially retained. Platenak returned from Spring break with one useless member, and yours truly finally escaped from you-know-who, only to be made a totally apathetic 3rd term KOTG. Rehab struck the courtyard and the fussball room thanks to Reder and Magliocco, respectively (the plants may last till Rotation four square next year). A thoroughly enjoyable semi-formal dinner was sponsored by Dave and Sheila, and held in exchange with all-female Brooks College in Long Beach (masterminded by the top executive 3 stooges: Mag Mr. Bill & JJ). Don Chin and Steve Chaiken opened up a whole new field in ping pong flicking and Richard Willson was elected new House BOCREP (also under the auspices of Steve).

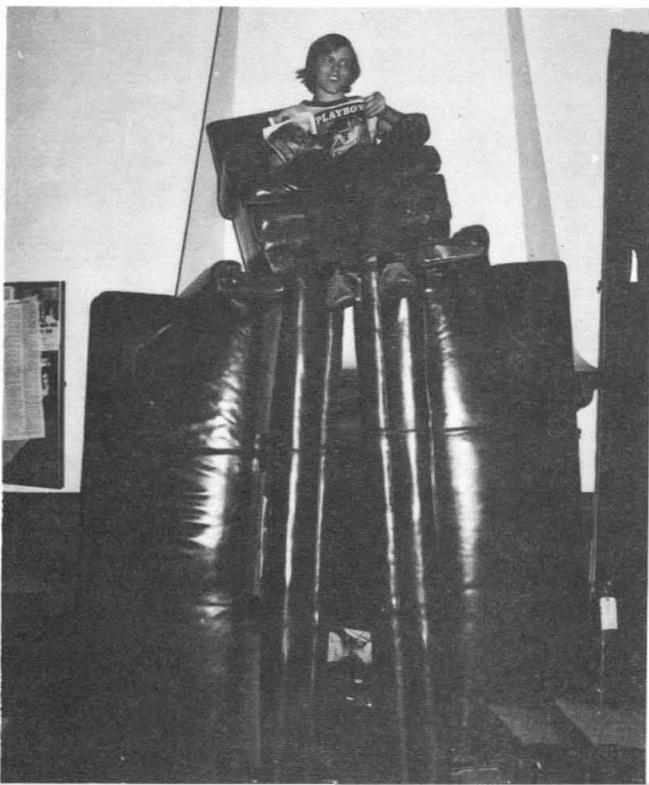

The fruits of stack-breaking

The highlights of third term were, as usual, PCD(E) and Ditch Day. The former was the best in this writer's memory, complete with Flaming Love-In, Lloyd refreshments, and Ruddock glass. The latter offered several brute-force stacks, notably the Don Chin-Nelson Lee stack (the last to be broken) and some interesting finesse stacks, e.g. Rotherberg's chess, Chaiken's musicians and Tsang's Biblical verses. The sophomore RA's, Drs. David and Sheila Crewther, announced their intention to return to the wilds of outback Australia and herd sheep and a farewell party was given in their honor at which they were presented with a silver tea set. Courtyard waterfights came into ascendancy during finals week, and Chaiken vowed he was going to graduate.

A riotous herd of frosh

RUDDOCK HOUSE

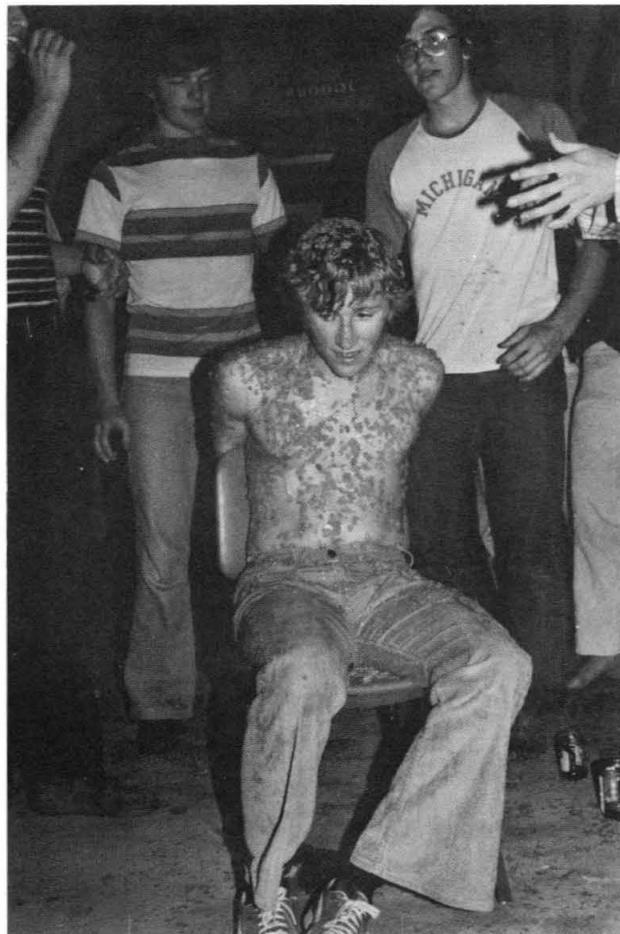

HOME OF GODS AND WARRIORS.
AND MEN WHO CAN HANDLE IT.

77-78 definitely proved, as other years before it, to be a year in Ruddock's history.

Frosh Hassle Week started the year and began as the Sophomores brought in the infamous Professor 4.5 as their Pledgemaster. In spite of many clues, and the 'help' of the ~~impo~~ incompetent Junior Class, the Frosh finally had to be told who the Prof was. In a uniquely subtle form of violent revenge, the Frosh had two representatives escort Professor 4.5 to the Coffeehouse.

The Alley challenges showed a bit of creative style this year, ranging from meat-pattie-skipping to running into walls. Amazingly enough, no injuries were sustained (much to the chagrin of those who wanted nerd burning for time as a challenge).

For Interhouse, Ruddock became the epitome of 'plastic'. A multitude of Grand Dragons emerged, lead by Mark Gubrud, who organized the creation of our courtyard into the club of the future, the Arcturian Ideal.

Running through the hall playing "The Ride" became one of Valhala's favorite pastimes, and treating him accordingly became one of Ruddock's pastimes. When drastic measures seemed in order, he was covered with various and sundry disgusting organic materials and promptly devoured by hordes of enormous roaches (which seemed to emerge from a secret base in Alley One).

The Bufus became heavily addicted to highly dangerous and powerful hallucinogens, threatening to undermine the athletic strength of the House.

The painting of the Alley Three sun mural and of the Alley Two hallway was completed in original fashion, largely due to the efforts of the late, great Mark Gubrud.

Elections contained the highly contested four-way race for the presidency, which was won by our own magnanimous Ernie. When all was done, Rotter was the only remnant of the Excomm of yore.

UASH finally beats Dave Wheeler in Caltech Roulette, forcing him to go undercover in a different option.

Bonnie Blamick was introduced to the idea of sex (or at least the mating habits of gits).

Bruce Gurney discovered the Orgasm Bestiality appears at Ruddock.

Upper Left: Alley One Radical giving interpretive reading on the benefits of ~~communica~~ communism.

Lower Left: Pepsi Pimp, P.D., and House Machine in midst of menage a trois in 1.5

Lower Right: Glip, Glop, Gleep. or Tweedledee, Tweedledum, and Tweedledumdum

Upper Left: Charlie Chaplin presides over dinner, flanked by Bela Lugosi. The pitcher on the right of the photograph is actually a clever disguise by John Brooks.

Lower Left: Texas rangers searching for nerds with an asbestos noose.

Lower Right: Frosh are given preliminary tests to ensure quality control.

Alley Six refutes once and for all the rumors that it is composed of bizarre homosexual nerds that toy with surrogate phalli, dress oddly and mumble to themselves.

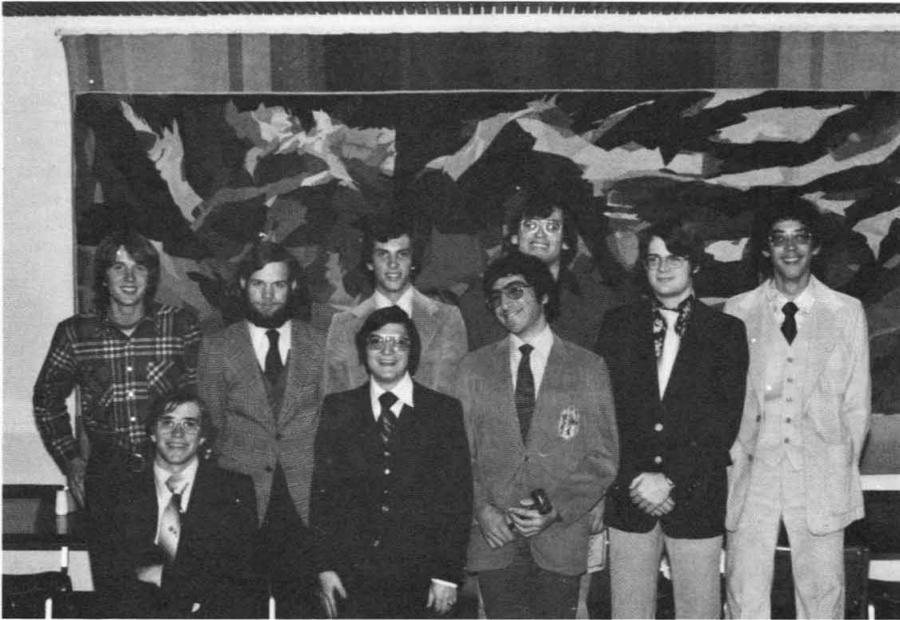

Our old RA is debriefed.

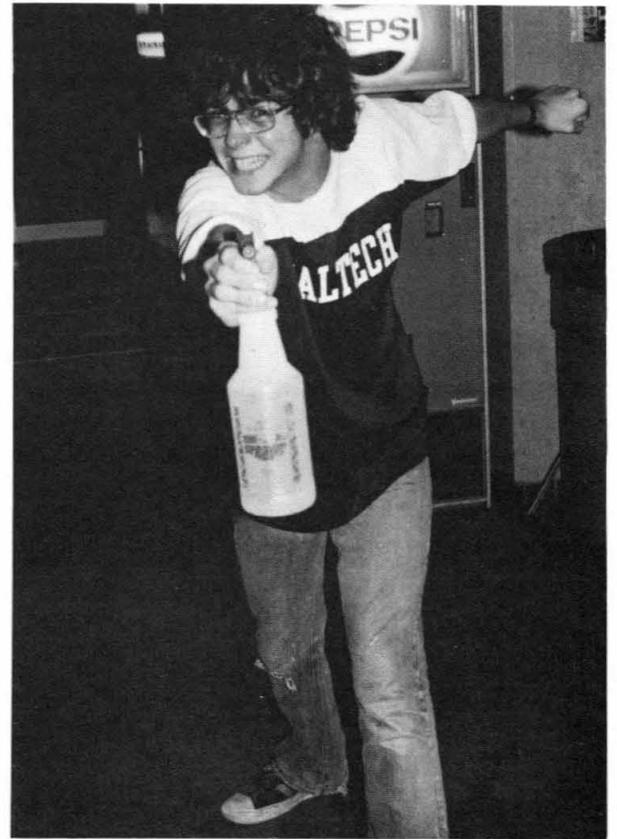

After three years of excellent and well-appreciated service, our RA's, Ajit and Rajini, are leaving for greater glories. We wish them the best of luck wherever they go and our gratitude for all they have done for us. We will miss them. At the same time we give a hearty welcome to our new RA's, Stu and Lynn Blackburn. We also wish them good luck.

Wilson and his chip off the old block.

After a term and a half of Tech life, the Frosh began to long for the olden times. This feeling lent itself to a 60's motif for the Frosh Party. Apropos of the times, the Frosh burned their draft cards and many got bombed.

Well, the Ice Wall creaks behind--
You're a rabbit on the run.
Skating Away...

Sophomores: (Left to Right): Standing: Bill Clayton, Jon Fong, Eric Nickell, Tom Loughry, Ken Britten, Ken Herkenhoff, Eric Nygren, Laura Wesson, Barry Wilson, Kreg Martin, Dave Mathog, Scott Devore, Dave 'Asshole' Joseph, Tim Ayers, Kwame Nartey, Alexis Porras, Tom Howell, Peter Damron, Bill Gross, Mitch Rotter, Joe Zasadzinski. Hit Bottom—Mark Gubrud, Doug Ericson, Jack Bennett.

Moses appeared as a guest lecturer at Ruddock this year.

Bill Gross became addicted to the awesome AUDIO POWER and Led Zeppelin.

Ditch Day appeared on a Wednesday this year, to no one's particular surprise, and included Swenson's "whoopa whoopa" microwave device, Mikey's "melt it if you can", and Cortez's photocell door opener.

Cortez leads Alley 6 on a tour of the steam tunnels.

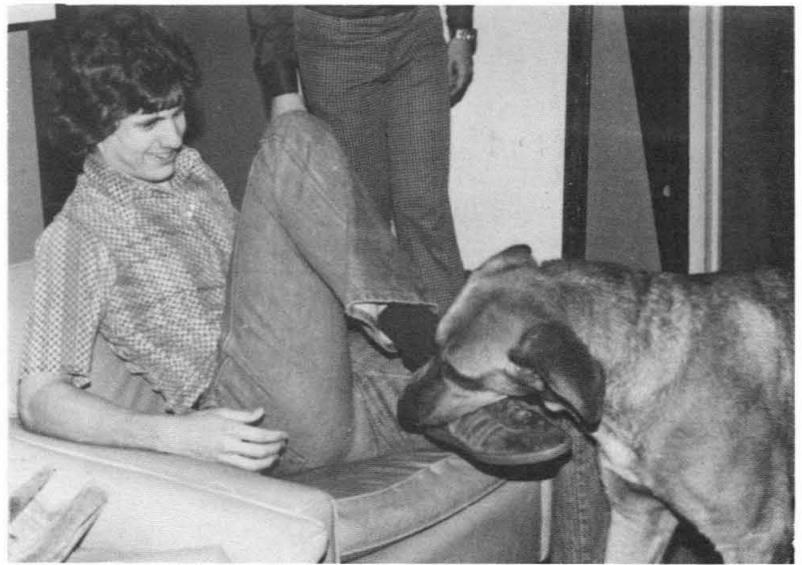

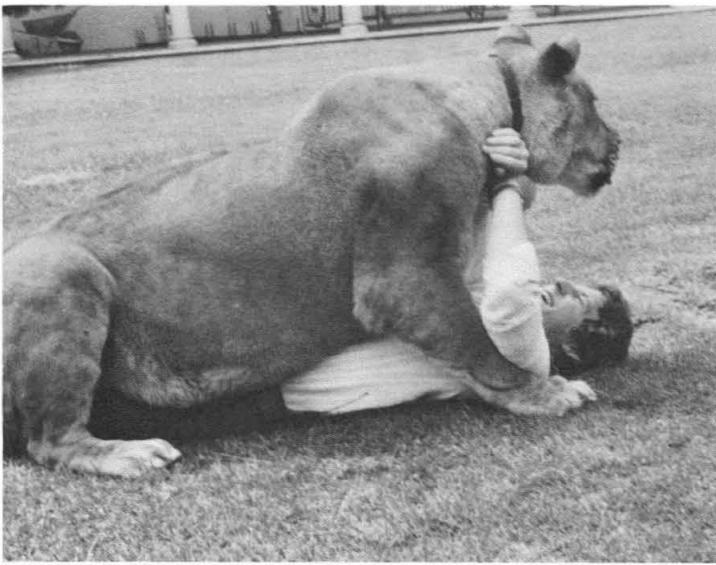

Warren Emery initiated Hockey as an official Caltech Sport this year.

The Ruddock House Fashion Show was a big success.

Dale practices a Physics experiment.

Ruddock House members are always taught to be kind and friendly to animals.

And the sand-castle virtues are all swept away
In the tidal destruction
The moral melee.

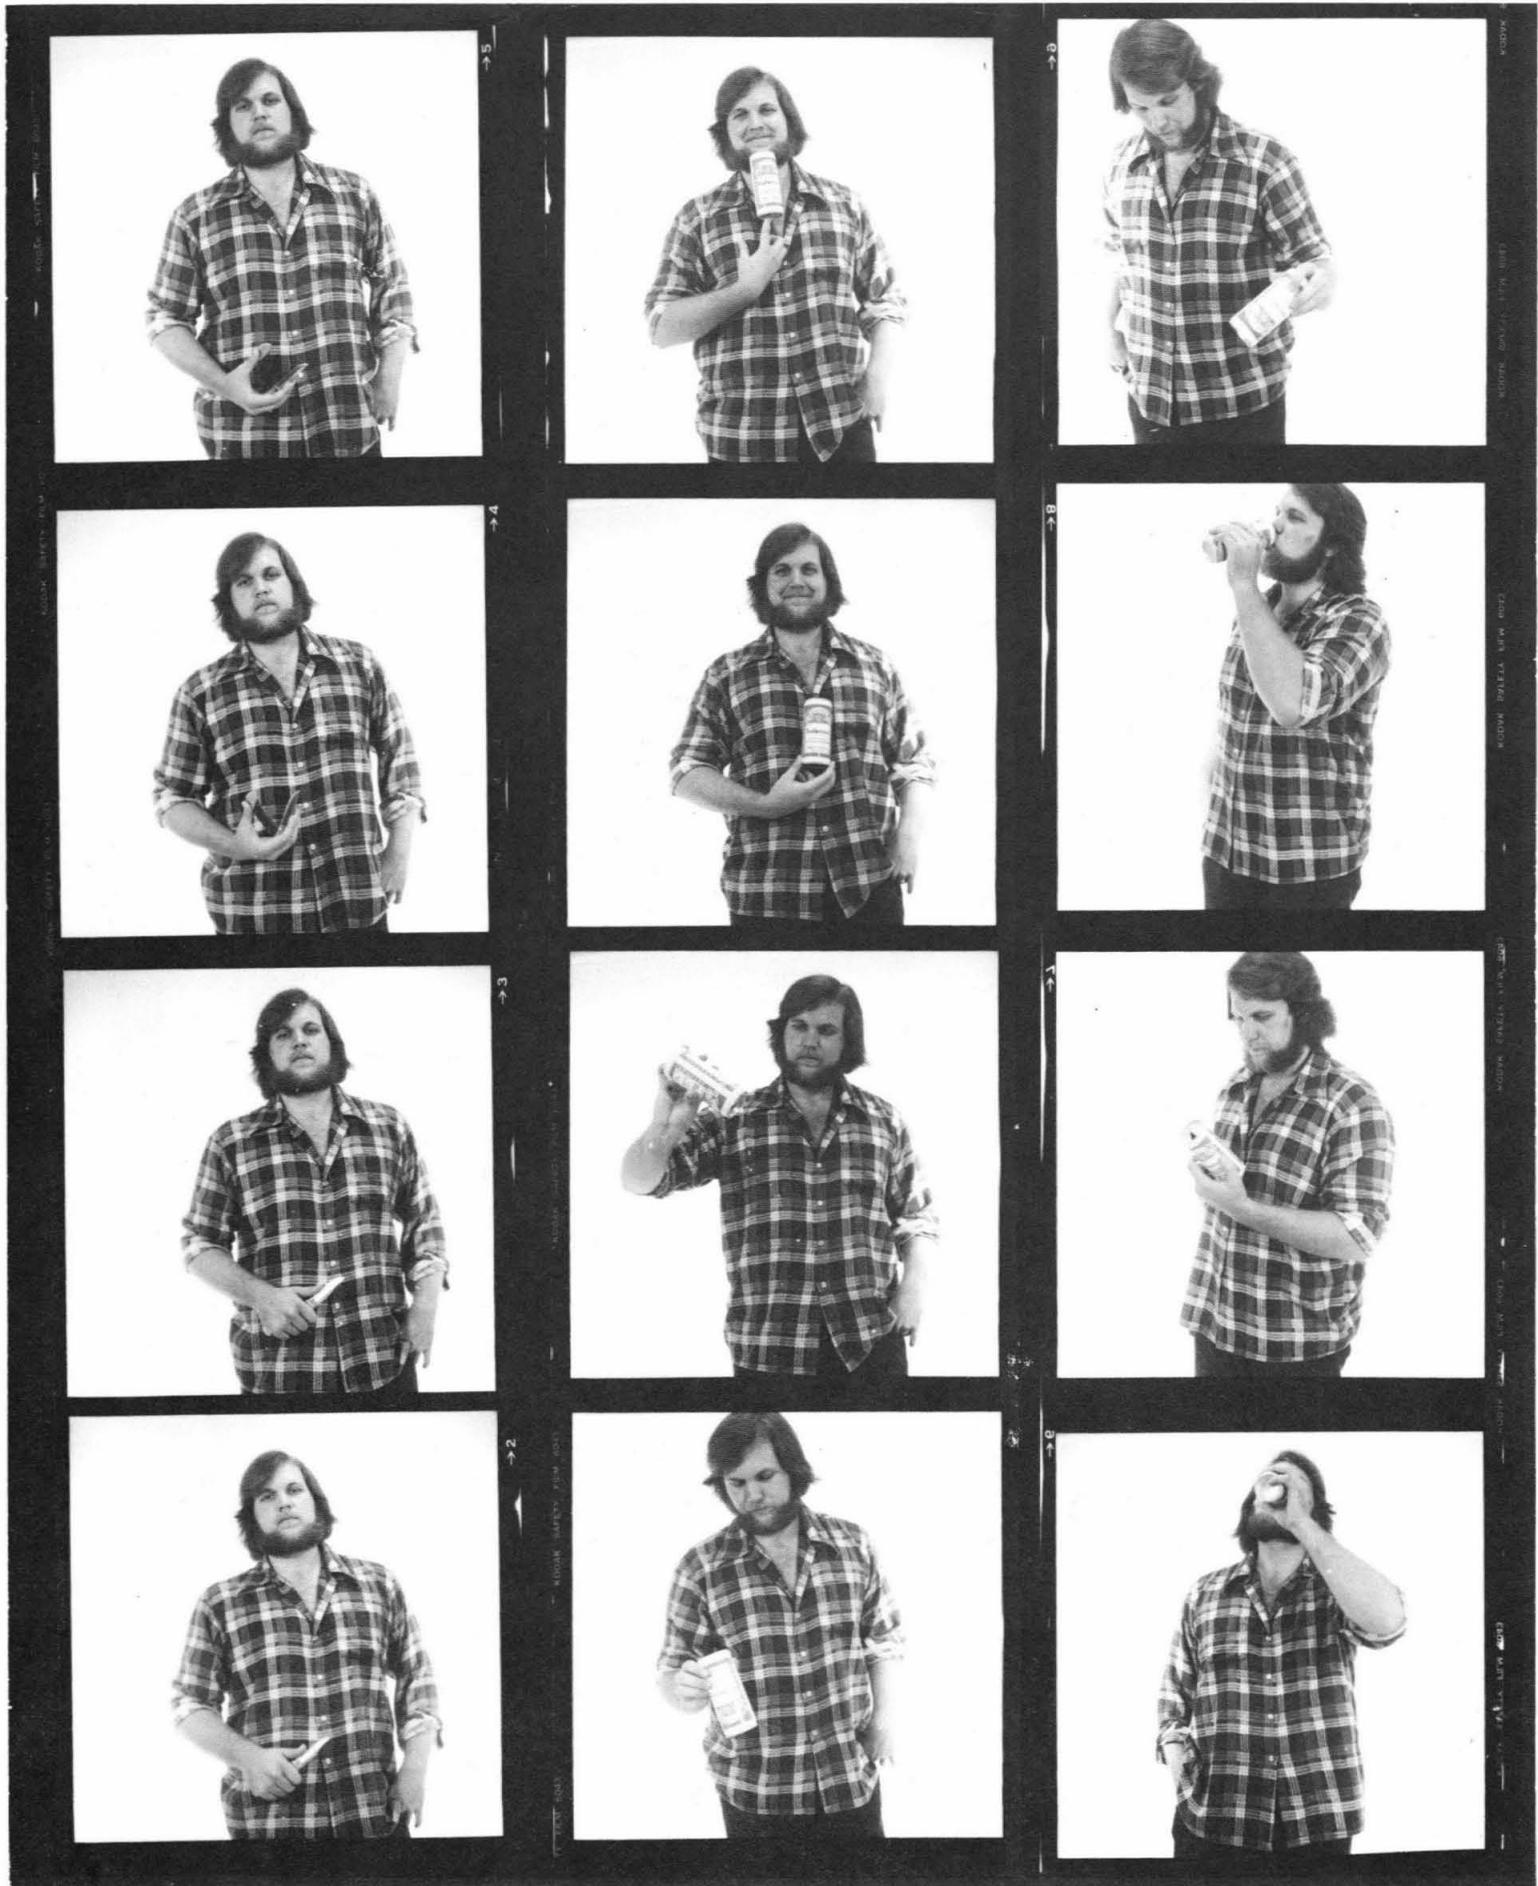

Many, many thanks to Gregg and Sandy, and best wishes to Jack, Doug, Ken, and the other members of Ruddock. Especial good luck to Mikey. Bye-bye...
