A speed of more than ten times the velocity in sound has been attained for the first time in the United States, and the result will be a more rapid development of the jet propulsion engine in the future.

The velocity of sound is 1100 feet per second, and the velocity at which the jet propulsion engine is now operating is 7600 feet per second.

The jet propulsion engine will be tested in a special wind tunnel, and the test will be repeated several times with a view to further development of the jet propulsion engine.

The first test was made on November 4, and the results were encouraging.

It is planned to use the jet propulsion engine for military and commercial purposes.

Discouraging perception was shown by G. Royce's Island date—though that was all that was encouraging about her. Royce ticked her up with a raucous "Hi, there!" and a high-altitude suit covering him from ankle to waist, and further concealed behind dark glasses. Upon arriving at the Roeg's door party, she repaired to the powder room, and Roeg's curiously crawled into Royce's suit and glasses. Upon said lady's return, Koeland graced her with a possessive, "Let's bang, Jackie," to which she coyly replied, "How did you know my name?" Oh, well, "The best laid plans . . . ."

Calorific man of the evening was Bobbie Williamson, who was unaccountably sipping his drink (the eighth) and chatting while Dick Welch, Harvey John son, and three upstart Technicians-Missis kept astylishly pointing out that only 45 minutes remained for the 45-minute ride to the Fratline House. They made it, but they had to slide—Dutch was blessed with a woman from out three who promptly drank him under the table—no mean feat.

The square assembly in the Rowlin's lounge last Saturday eve and another night of ribald imitation of a Bimble's basement suite. In a midnight of the air, a noble stood Suitor Al Marshall, with his good ole rumored voice intoning a dull sounding re-tale of some old song. "PIG." When everybody got tired

S提供商's program is in store.

The Varsity squad will be much the same as last year except for the graduates Illos, Church, and Jenks. Veteran Cox and Mont - perry will be on hand to welcome back some of last year's Frosh squad such stalwarts as Dry, Garner, and Hascher, Michaelson, Biddle, Skoever, Purdy, Toste, etc. Homer, Baker, Tysim, Michaelson and Karahew will not be out for practice until the football season is over. Libby has a conflict with water polo and Butler is recovering from an appendectomy and is not expected to be out for practice any sooner.

We all hope someone's football brain will be sufficiently sagacious so that he may serve on the squad before too long.

Don't forget that meeting to compare at 11 a.m. in 306 Dialogue for all those men interested in joining and making a winning basketball squad.
